Roosevelt Adds to Cabinet; U. S. Wars On Foreign Spies

Includes Loans, Work and Security Chiefs

FLEET IS BUSY

'No Immediate Plans' for Special Session, Early Says

BULLETIN

Salem, Oregon—(P)—Senator Charles L. McNary (R-Ore.), senate minority leader, said President Roosevelt telephoned him today suggesting congress meet in special session Sept. 18 to consider changes in the neutrality law.

Washington—(P)—President Roosevelt today enlarged his cabinet "for the duration of the emergency" to include the administrators of loans, work and security.

At the same time the government moved swiftly to crush activities of foreign spies within the nation's borders, while an augmented naval and coast guard fleet steamed the Atlantic seaboard to protect American shipping.

Enlargement of the cabinet was announced in connection with a cabinet meeting called for today instead of tomorrow because the president hopes to leave sometime tomorrow for his Hyde park, N. Y., home.

In addition to the regular 10 cabinet members, those invited to attend this afternoon's session were Paul V. McNutt, security administrator; Jesse H. Jones, loan administrator; and John M. Carmody, works administrator.

No Immediate Session
Stephen Early, White House press secretary, said the president had "no immediate plans" for calling congress into special session to revise the neutrality act and for the present would study and explore the operation of the arms embargo and determine the extent of his present powers.

In another move connected with the war situation in Europe, Secretary Morgenthau completed his emergency advisory council with the appointment of three economists.

The three are Frank Jacob Viner of the University of Chicago, and Walter W. Stewart and Winfield W. Riefler, both of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J.

Regarding a special congressional session, Early said:
"The president is not considering a date for the call of congress. Respecting such a call there are no immediate plans. I think the president is taking the opportunity of the present interim to make studies and explorations after the neutrality act has gone into effect."

Studies Old Law
"Most of these studies are with the idea of seeing what powers and authority he has now; he is exploring old acts of congress and other powers to see what he has to operate with without calling congress back."

Early also asserted that the White House was receiving many "kickbacks" on the rise in food prices and all of these were being sent to Attorney General Murphy and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

The president, bolstering the United States' neutrality, ordered a "comprehensive and effective" drive against espionage, sabotage and neutrality violations.

Coast Patrols
The treasury reorganized its personnel divisions handling neutrality and other enforcement work. It dispatched four coast guard cutters from the west coast to assist two destroyers and as many coast guard vessels ordered to the north Atlantic yesterday to patrol the eastern coast line.

The president's order to ferret out spies came late yesterday in a statement saying:
"This task must be conducted in a comprehensive and effective manner."

Lectures For Housewives

Group of Westchester, N. Y. club women announced these topics for discussion: Home buying. Quality. Durability. Usefulness. Home beauty. Home comfort. This lacks definition. Which Home Beauty is to be discussed, wife or husband? For whom do they expect the longer durability? And which of the two promises to be of greater usefulness? These are pertinent questions. As to the home comfort, that may be secured by consistent use of The Post-Crescent classified want-ads. This one was very useful.

Assembly Votes to Change Reservoir Site Back to Lily

Madison—(P)—Reversing itself, the assembly today revised the Wolf river reservoir bill, changing the site of the proposed dam and reservoir from Leeman to Lily—the original choice. The decision was made on a voice vote.

The dam, to be constructed on the Wolf, would improve water power facilities, safeguard fish life and provide flood control, its sponsors said. The Leeman site was approved last week.

Incorporating the recommendations of a three-man assembly committee which inspected the sites, the house also adopted amendments prohibiting any other dams on the Wolf or its tributaries and requiring a minimum water level and public access to the dam.

By a vote of 62 to 28, the house rejected a proposal by Biemiller (D), Milwaukee, to turn over the project to the Wisconsin Development Authority which would be designated a state agency and given an appropriation of $50,000 with authority to borrow federal funds.

The house recessed before the measure came up for an engrossment vote. Debate will be resumed late today.

Milk Price Case Against Rohan Is Dropped by State

Kaukauna Man Claims Victory in Abandonment Of Law Violation Charge

The state department of agriculture announced today it would drop prosecution of William Rohan, Kaukauna, on a charge of violating the milk control law. The case was scheduled for tomorrow in municipal court.

Rohan today stated that he was satisfied that the case would be dropped because "it shows that I have won my point." He said he would have been ready to face trial.

The department contended Rohan was selling milk below fixed prices only in negligible quantity and that the expense of a trial was warranted. The department planned to offer in municipal court tomorrow a motion for non-suit with an affidavit which charged that Rohan's "wide publication of defiance of the law apparently is for some other purpose than to enable him to distribute fluid milk."

Rohan answered this announcement with the statement that his only reason for wanting a trial was to show the people of Wisconsin "that a farmer has a right to sell his own products."

The state's affidavit said no further action would be taken until the department was satisfied "bona fide" issues had been raised or until there were indications of a "mistaken notion that the state is deterred by fear of adverse judgment in the courts."

The department also announced that Joseph Lemberger, Mishicot farmer, who had been charged with selling below the ordered price for the Manitowish market, had applied for a license to sell milk under terms of the control law.

4-Year-Old Boy Victim Of Drowning Tragedy

Wausau—(P)—The body of Richard Gosh, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gosh, of Schofield, was taken from the Wisconsin river yesterday, five hours after he disappeared. County authorities assumed the boy fell into the water while playing on a dock.

The body was found by a fisherman who reported it to the sheriff's office. The boy was wearing a blue shirt and shorts.

The Gosh family lives on a farm near Schofield. The boy had been missing since about 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

The boy's father, Elmer Gosh, said he had been looking for his son since he disappeared. He said he was very worried about his son's safety.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Elmer Gosh, said she was very sad about the tragedy. She said she had been looking for her son since he disappeared.

Aldermen Settle Village, District Utility Questions

Grant Water to Belle Heights, Sewer Service to Buchholz

The business like atmosphere of Appleton's new city hall and the fact that last night's meeting was the first in the new council chambers had its effect on aldermen who struggled through endless routine and then settled several questions which have been hanging fire during most of the summer.

The council voted to grant water service to the village of Belle Heights, authorized the mayor and clerk to sign the contract for sewer service to the Buchholz Sanitary district and denied the license applications of two junk dealers operating in the residential district.

Aldermen also authorized the mayor and city clerk to borrow up to $115,000 on which to operate until the new budget is drawn in anticipation of income from the state highway department and the utility tax the city receives each year in December from the state.

The Belle Heights proposal has been in and out of committees and the council all summer and the water committee, headed by Alderman Knutti, last night again came in with a recommendation to deny the village water service.

Alderman McGillan started the argument by intimating that service to the village may mean the city's share of relief costs.

The state planning board, allotted $45,000 annually by the state, would receive $50,000 as a result of an amendment by Alfonsi (P), Pence, adopted by a 69 to 18 vote.

With the diversion item eliminated, the senate's $18,000,000 bill now raises only about $10,000,000 about $16,000,000 short of estimated expenses.

The appearance of Governor Hall in the house last night precipitated a brief exchange between Alfonsi and Grass (R) Sturgeon Bay.

After a few words with the governor, Grass moved adjournment. Alfonsi promptly urged defeat of the motion.

"I see the chief executive is in the back of the chamber," he said. "The roll call will show the governor whether we are lazy or whether we want to work."

The legislators refused to adjourn, 61 to 23.

Reorganization Bill
Administration hopes of passing the public service commission reorganization bill, twice killed by the assembly, were revived temporarily today.

Speaker Vernon Thomson (R) Richmond Center, ruled that parliamentary precedents permitted continued voting on the bill, even after the roll call to reject it, as long as the assembly was willing to reconsider.

It was made a special order of business for next Wednesday. The measure was defeated August 24 on a 50 to 35 vote. The first motion for reconsideration, by Assemblyman Kellman (R) Galeville, was adopted. After the bill lost the second time, Assemblyman Youngs (R) Oconto, again asked reconsideration but opponents protested the motion could not be put under the rules. The speaker's decision overruled that contention.

The next vote will be on the question of reconsideration. If it fails the measure will die automatically. The reorganization plan proposed to eliminate the three-man public service commission and substitute a director.

Senate Passes Fund Bill to Help Legion Stage Convention

Madison—(P)—The senate today passed under suspension of the rules a bill appropriating $50,000 to help defray expenses of holding the American Legion national convention in Milwaukee in 1941.

The bill was introduced by Senator Murray (R) Milwaukee, to replace one enacted earlier this session which was ruled unconstitutional by the attorney general.

The vote was 16 to 13. The measure now goes to the assembly.

Opponents said it would result in increased tourist trade and business for the state. Pointing to successful records of previous gatherings, they predicted the money would be returned in full to the general fund.

Assemblyman Denies He Used Flag to Wipe Pen
Madison—(P)—Defending his patriotism and respect for the American flag, Assemblyman Arthur E. Austin (R) Rio, took exception today to a statement in a column of a Milwaukee newspaper which he said cast reflection on him.

The column said a "tall, central Wisconsin livestock dealer" wiped his pen on the huge flag which hangs in the rear of the assembly chamber.

Austin declared the description inferred he had used the flag for a pen wiper, which he stoutly denied having done. He said his respect for the flag is such that he keeps one unfurled in his rooms.

House Refuses To Cross Out Cigaret Tax

Also Rejects Plan to Increase 60 Per Cent Surtax Exemptions

BILL IS UP TODAY

Amendment to Reduce State's Share of Relief Costs Awaits Vote

Madison—(P)—The assembly refused, by a 47 to 37 vote last night, to delete a $60,000 cigarette tax from the senate's tax bill.

Also rejected at the overtime session was an amendment to increase the 60 per cent surtax exemptions set out in the measure. The bill was badly crippled earlier in the day when the house eliminated a $7,500,000 highway fund diversion item.

The house also turned down proposals for levying a 10 per cent tax on the retail price of cigars selling for 10 cents or more, on tobacco selling for more than 8 cents an ounce and pipes costing 50 cents or more.

An amendment reducing the state's share of relief costs from 20 to 15 per cent is expected to come up for final action today. Its original form the amendment reduced the figure to 5 per cent, but it was boosted to 15 on an amendment by Tafelsch (D) Milwaukee.

The assembly made the tax bill a special order of business for 4:30 p. m. today to act on reconsideration motions requiring another vote on the proposal to eliminate the cigarette tax and reduce the state share of relief costs.

Far Short of Goal
The state planning board, allotted $45,000 annually by the senate, would receive $50,000 as a result of an amendment by Alfonsi (P), Pence, adopted by a 69 to 18 vote.

Strike to Force Plants' Closing

Nash-Kelvinator to Shut Down Factories in Milwaukee and Kenosha

Detroit—(P)—The Nash-Kelvinator Corporation announced today that its Nash Motors division would shut down plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., tonight because of a strike at the Bendix Products Corporation plant at South Bend, Ind., which supplies Nash with brakes.

Nash-Kelvinator issued the following statement:
"All plants of the Nash Motors division of the Nash-Kelvinator Corporation in Milwaukee and Kenosha will be forced into idleness tonight (Thursday night) as the result of the UAW-CIO strike at the Bendix Products Corporation in South Bend, Ind., which supplies Nash with brakes; company officials announced this morning."

"The Indiana strike threw 3,500 people out of work in Kenosha and 2,800 out of their jobs at the Milwaukee Body plant of Nash. These plants will be compelled to remain closed until the Bendix strike is settled as Nash has exhausted its supply of brakes, factory officials said."

Recover Stolen Goods In Raids at 2 Homes
Racine—(P)—Police raided two homes here last night and recovered more than $1,000 worth of stolen goods. Lieutenant Earl Olson announced today. He said the merchandise was stolen in a series of burglaries beginning last October in Waukegan, Ill. Waukegan authorities are holding three Racine youths in connection with the burglaries.

Gitlow, who referred to Joseph Stalin at one point as "the red father of soviet Russia," said he was the first person arrested and imprisoned "as a communist" in the United States. He asserted that he served three years before Governor Smith pardoned him in 1925. Then, in 1929, he testified, he was expelled from the party for disobedience to Moscow.

"The leaders of the party in Russia," he said, "gave the orders and all communists in all countries must obey or be expelled. All decisions, once made, must be carried out explicitly."

The witness added, however, that despite his expulsion he did not completely break with the philosophy of communism until the recent signing of the non-aggression pact between Russia and Germany.

"When collaboration between nazi Germany and soviet Russia was announced as something that would help the Russian and German people," Gitlow told the committee, "I concluded that it was necessary to repudiate communism and expose it for what it is."

British Troops Moving Up As French Continue Drive; Nazi Troops Near Warsaw

Berlin Reports Army Within 20 Miles of Poles' Capital

Westerplatte Ammunition Stores Fall Into German Hands

BY LOUIS F. LOCHNER
Berlin—(P)—The Associated Press was informed officially today that the German army already was within 20 miles of Warsaw, but even this report was declared "probably already completely superseded."

It was announced officially also that the Polish garrison at Westerplatte, the Polish military depot in Danzig harbor, had surrendered at 10:20 a. m. today (3:20 a. m., C.S.T.). The Poles had been under German air and naval attack since early on the morning of Sept. 1.

The German supreme command stated that the Westerplatte force of 120 men fought gallantly for several days, but in view of the hopelessness of the general situation—as the Germans put it—decided to surrender.

Allays Nazi Fear
Thus one of the greatest German fears, that Danzig, newly rejoined to the reich, might be destroyed by the Poles' setting off their big Westerplatte ammunition stores, was said to have been allayed.

It was authoritatively asserted that the accelerated speed, observable since Monday, with which German armies have been driving through Poland was due to the fact that the entire strategic defense plan of the Poles has fallen into German hands.

Among the booty found when one entire Polish division surrendered, said a German informant, was an iron strong box, which contained plans for Poland's defense in minute detail.

The Germans were surprised the informant related, when the Poles did not alter their strategy after Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goerring, chief of the air force, at 1:45 p. m. (6:45 a. m., C.S.T.) issued a radio broadcast.

Owners of Athenia Report 128 Dead or Missing in Tragedy

Glasgow, Scotland—(P)—Owners of the British liner Athenia, sunk Sunday night off the Scottish coast with 1,418 persons aboard, reported today that 128 persons were dead or missing.

The Donaldson Atlantic line, however, still held slight hope that the death toll might be reduced.

It pointed out that there was the possibility that outward bound vessels not equipped with wireless had picked up some survivors.

Accounting for 1,290 whose rescue is known, line officials said 560 passengers and crew had been landed in Scotland, 510 in Ireland and 220 were aboard the rescue ship City of Flint.

Mailmen Refuse to Turn Out Older Men
Milwaukee—(P)—Letter carriers believe that when a man reaches 65 he is just as capable of serving as an officer of their association as he is earlier in life.

Delegates to the National Association of Letter Carriers convention turned down yesterday a resolution which would have ended the career of Edward J. Gainer, Municipal, Ind., national president for 25 years, and others who had reached the age of 65. Gainer is 69.

The delegates voted in favor of reducing the maximum bag load for carriers from 30 to 35 pounds; opposed reduction of postal rates as hazardous to salaried and asked a spreading out of magazine mailing dates.

Hope Is Abandoned for 4 Marquette Fishermen

Marquette, Mich.—(P)—Searchers for four Marquette fishermen, missing since a storm struck Lake Superior last Sunday, abandoned hope yesterday that any of them might still be alive.

Those lost were Lowell and Toivo Tallio, John Kauppila and William "Slim" Hill.

Coast guards commanded by William Regard said they found an overturned boat identified as that in which the party set out Sunday morning. They said Hill apparently perished when he tried to rescue the others.

$60,000 Fire Damage To Store at Wautoma
Wautoma—(P)—Fire burned out the interior of the Wautoma Mercantile company department store early today, causing damage estimated at $60,000.

Wautoma and Wild Rose firemen fought the blaze for three hours, confining flames to the interior of the two-story brick building.

Two offices, a beauty shop and photographic studio on the second floor were damaged.

Warsaw Defenders 'Fighting Like Lions' to Check Tank Attacks of German Invaders

Warsaw—(P)—Defenders of this Polish capital were reported today to have fallen back to a 30-mile line paralleling the Vistula river where they rallied and were "fighting like lions" against German tank thrusts.

The defense line ran between Plesk and Pultusk, northwest and northeast of Warsaw, respectively. About thirty miles of open country and the protecting Vistula river lay between Warsaw and the invaders from the north.

The right wing of the Poles had been hammered back from Ciechanow, about 25 miles northwest of Pultusk, pivoting on Plesk.

At one stage of the struggle the Poles were driven from Pultusk and the Germans threatened to turn the Polish flank and thrust on to the Vistula and Warsaw. Pultusk, however, was regained in the face of withering German fire.

Beat Off Attacks
A staff officer, slightly wounded, returned from the battle-front and reported the Poles were staunchly holding the Plesk-Pultusk line, beating off repeated German attempts to break through.

"The Poles are fighting like lions," he said.

The officers related that Germans with tank vanguards succeeded in piercing the line several places but the defenders out-flanked them and smashed the penetrating columns, destroying and capturing a considerable number of tanks.

The officer assured members of his family the situation was favorable.

Liner Answers Distress Call

Speeds to British Channel; English Freighter Sunk by Explosion

New York—(P)—The United States Lines today received a radio from the Washington which sailed from New York Saturday that she was "proceeding to the assistance of the Olive Grove presumably in the vicinity of the English channel."

The United States Lines said the Washington would be near the channel by this time.

Lloyd's register gives the Olive Grove as owned by the Grove Line of Glasgow with its home port as Glasgow.

The register said it was a 4,060-tonnage craft built in 1929.

Lisbon—(P)—The 7,242-ton British freighter Manara was sunk last night off Portugal by what survivors declared was a submarine torpedo, and early this afternoon 41 of her crew of 83 had not been accounted for. At least two were killed and three wounded.

Survivors said that the Manara, bound for Calcutta from Liverpool, was torpedoed without warning, and that while the crew was attempting to abandon her in eight lifeboats the submarine opened fire and destroyed one lifeboat, killing one man and wounding four.

ently was Amer. ally, who subsequently died en route to Lisbon aboard a rescue ship, the Netherlands steamer Mars.

The Mars brought 29 survivors here, among them the three others wounded—J. Furner, Thomas Jones and Abdul Nubre.

The Portuguese liner Carvaljo Araujo arrived here with 16 British-Indian members of the Manara's crew.

Congressman Johns' Son Thinks He'd Like to Make 'Good Will' Flight to Europe and End War

Manchester, N. H.—(P)—Neuman "Pat" Johns, 24, Europe-bound Wisconsin aviator, who was grounded at the Manchester airport yesterday, said his proposed flight "might be of slightly more interest than ordinary flights and possible exceptions might be made."

"In spite of the war, such a flight might have a psychological effect on the minds of the European nations and it might give them a little different slant on things," he wrote the president. "All I ask is that you give me a chance."

Johns said he would remain here until he hears from the president or CAA authorities.

The young flyer, son of Congressman Joshua L. Johns (R-Wis.), said he would apply to the Civil Aeronautics authority for permission to make the flight in the near future in his two-seater Aerocraft, the Screwwall 1.

"President Roosevelt attempted to stop this war and evidently has failed," young Johns told newsmen after the federal agents thwarted his plans.

Citizenship Day Program Outlined By Prof. Colbert

Founder of Project Speaks At Meeting in Appleton Y. M. C. A.

Underlying principles and practical methods observed in promoting and presenting Wisconsin's and the nation's first Citizenship day at Manitowoc—which will serve as a pattern for the state and nation—were described by Professor R. J. Colbert, of the University of Wisconsin Extension Division last night before a group of Appleton people interested in the project at the Y. M. C. A.

Arrangements for the talk were made by Judge Edgar V. Werner, who was named chairman of a committee last winter to plan a similar event for Outagamie county and who presided at last night's meeting.

the suggestion and the Citizenship day program was the outcome.

The program, the professor said last night, is designed to help an "indifferent and uninformed electorate" and distributes its benefits not only to the 21-year-olds who participate and but to adults who inevitably become interested.

Under the law which the state legislature recently passed, the county superintendent of schools is made the official head of the Citizenship day committee; he and other school officials form the hub of the group promoting the project.

H. J. Van Straten, superintendent of schools, who was present at last night's meeting, was elected chairman of the permanent county Citizenship day committee. He will select other members of the executive committee.

Pointing out that the radio, the World war, and newspapers have diverted people's attention from local to national and international affairs, Professor Colbert said that "many know more about the League of Nations than they do of their own county government, which is the basis of our democracy."

Regular Classes
The Citizenship day program sponsored at Manitowoc, through classes attended by the 21-year-olds for some time preceding the actual ceremony, spread information on local government and interest in its functions among the young people.

"When we become members of a church or lodge, there is an attending ceremony, but when we become citizens of the United States, nothing happens," Professor Colbert said.

The classes which were held at Manitowoc preliminary to the ceremony had in charge discussion leaders, men chosen from various professions, who themselves had attended forums to prepare themselves for instructing the young people.

Classes were conducted on a community basis; that is, young people from the same town, village, or ward attending their own discussions. The groups met 10 times, Professor Colbert said.

"There is one thing that must be remembered by every county in sponsoring such a project and that is that training for citizenship has always been the responsibility of the school and school men must occupy prominent places on the executive committee," he said.

Other members of the committee are selected from various organizations and clubs until "every group in the county has something to do." In addition to the executive group, there are committees for "ways and means," program, director, publicity, decoration, records, traffic-saf-ty-emergency, Professor Colbert reported.

Printed Bulletin

A bulletin issued by the University of Wisconsin entitled "Citizenship Training and Induction for New Voters" was distributed among those attending last night's meeting. It has complete information on the makeup of committees and method of operation as practiced in the Manitowoc project.

Professor Colbert stressed the advisability of making the program "voluntary for the 21-year-olds," but pointed out that there is considerable work and zeal necessary on the part of committee members to assure the interest of the young people. After the program has once been successfully carried on, those young citizens who have participated sponsor and direct the ensuing year's event, Professor Colbert explained. Manitowoc is already making plans for its 1940 Citizenship day.

Judge Werner reported at last night's meeting that Outagamie county supervisors have already turned in the names of many young people throughout the county who will make potential leaders in the training program and that at the next county board meeting the project will be more thoroughly studied.

The state law makes provisions for county boards to set aside appropriations for this purpose, if they wish.

Branchford Holds Invaders to 6 Hits in Exhibition Game

Kaukauna — The highly touted Milwaukee Ghosts were just another ball team here last night, going down before the Kaukauna All-Stars, 7 to 2. Howard Branchford went all the way for the Stars, spacing six hits and striking out seven. "Cannonball" Sims was far from invincible, being touched for 12 safeties.

The Stars scored enough runs in the first inning to win. Joey Vils and Junior Schumann led off with singles, with Don Steger sacrificing them along. Branchford's double then plated two runs, and Bill Peterson's triple brought Branchford home.

Score in 4th, 5th. The winners scored again in the fourth and fifth. In the latter inning Schumann led off with his second hit, advanced to second as Johnson was walked and scored on Branchford's single. In the former Bill Peterson walked, went to second on Powers' hit and scored on Koehn's single. The final two runs came in the sixth. Peranteau and Powers reached base on singles and came home on Koehn's second single.

Branchford received excellent support from his mates, with Jack Burton in left contributing several fine catches. Vils, Schumann, Branchford, Powers and Koehn all had two hits.

The Ghosts counted in the second, on an error, a passed ball and a strike, and in the fourth, when Kirk's long fly went past Rohan for a home run.

Women Foresters Make Plans For Guest Party at Church

Kaukauna — Plans were made for the inauguration of the social season with a guest card party Tuesday evening, Sept. 19, at Holy Cross church hall, as W.C.O.F., St. Ann's court, met last night. Contract and auction bridge, sheepskin and other games will be played, prizes given and lunch served. On the committee in charge are Mrs. John Schuh, Mrs. John Haen, Mrs. Joseph Muthig, Miss Elizabeth Kramer, Mrs. Martin Heindel and Mrs. Roman Simon.

Past Matrons club will meet at 7 o'clock tonight at the home of Mrs. G. Brauer, W. Wisconsin avenue. Plans for the new season will be discussed.

Officers of Holy Cross church Holy Name society gathered last night to make arrangements for the first fall communion and meeting of the group next Sunday. Plans for the 1939-1940 season were made.

Women's Benefit association held a covered dish supper and social meeting last night at Martens hall, with prizes at cards going to Mrs. Maggie Thyrion, Mrs. Ella Belongia and Mrs. Sally Helf. Prizes for the cake walk went to Mrs. Angeline Kramer and Mrs. Helf.

Four candidates were initiated into Fraternal Order of Eagles as the group met last night at Odd Fellows hall. A report on the national convention was given by Ray Schmalz, a state officer and a delegate to the conclave. Plans to enter a bowling team in the Fraternal league were discussed and the audit for the last quarter given.

Eight members of the local Rose Rebekah lodge attended the district No. 14 meeting at Sturgeon Bay Tuesday. They were Mrs. Marie Paschen, Mrs. Anna Kuehl, Mrs. Ella Kuehl, Mrs. Laura Miller, Mrs. Maggie Thyrion, Mrs. Mary Stroetz, Mrs. Ethel Densch and Mrs. Mayme Winge. The Kaukauna lodge will be hostess at a district meeting here in December.

Kaukauna Relief Costs Increase

August Outlay $500 Over July Expenses, Director Reports

Kaukauna — An increase in the relief roll of 11 persons and an increase in expenditures of more than $500, is shown for the month of August by the report of Joseph V. Krahn, relief director. Sixty-three were receiving aid as the month began, with 19 new cases opened and 8 closed.

The month's expense, $2,867, was the highest for the year. The previous top was $2,585 in February. Of the August total $1,389 was spent for direct relief and $1,498 for work relief projects, on which persons on relief work at 50 cents an hour until part or all of their allotments are worked off.

The report shows 191 workers on the power plant project, 27 on the sidewalk project, one man on an out of the city job, and 24 relief workers on the Seventh street paving project. Working in the Kaukauna district on WPA are 67 men with legal residence here, 147 with legal residence elsewhere in the county and 5 non-relief men.

Forestry College Grad Tells Club Of Work in Cities

Robert Hagman Offers Suggestions for Care Of Kaukauna Trees

Kaukauna — Robert Hagman, a graduate of the Michigan State college forestry department, spoke on "Municipal Forestry" yesterday noon at Hotel Kaukauna before the Rotary club. He described what other cities are doing to improve their appearances, and suggested ways in which Kaukauna might do likewise.

Hagman commended the recent tree planting ordinance passed here as a step toward a uniform policy of tree planting and care, but added the city should go even further. Natural beauty spots, such as the Thousand Islands, could be greatly improved through careful tree planting.

Th many box elders on city streets are one of the worst kinds of trees, Hagman said. He recommended the planting of such trees as Norway maple, sugar maple, American elm and pin oak as varieties which had been proved suitable for city streets. Improper pruning operations in the city parks had resulted in some damage, in cases irreparable, and should be watched in the future, he said.

The soil of Kaukauna has been found to be deficient in phosphorus, Hagman said. Acid phosphate added to a commercial fertilizer should remedy this lack in the cheapest manner, he concluded.

Dr. George Boyd, Clarence Kriese and James T. Judd, the latter two members of the high school faculty, were presented as new members.

Central Labor Body

Meets Friday Night

Kaukauna — Members of all Kaukauna unions are invited to be present as Kaukauna Central Labor union meets at 7:30 Friday evening at American Legion hall. Either Henry Ohl, president of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, or David Sigman of the same organization will speak. Members of locals not yet affiliated with the central body may attend.

Louis Hanson Wins

Mill Safety Award

Kaukauna — Louis Hanson, a machinist, is the winner of the safety award for August at the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, according to L. C. Smith, personnel manager. Both the lower and upper mills went through the month without an accident, and thus all employees were eligible for the award. One accident in the lower mill is the only lost time mishap since July 1.

Cavanaugh Is Invited

To Join Nicolet Board

Kaukauna — James F. Cavanaugh, superintendent of schools, has been invited to become a member of the state advisory board of the Jean Nicolet commission, by Robert M. Desureau, the commission's director of public relations. The purpose of the commission is to build a monument to Nicolet at Madison.

STAR IN 'WHEN TOMORROW COMES'

"When Tomorrow Comes" teams Irene Dunne and Charles Boyer again... under the master direction and production genius of John M. Stahl, who gave the screen such stand-out pictures as "Back Street," "Magnificent Obsession," "Only Yesterday".... It's a story of a waitress who meets and wins a man in seventy-two hours... but not until hurricane and flood have wrecked havoc with their love.

"When Tomorrow Comes" will start a four day engagement at the Appleton Theatre on Saturday.

"Mr. Wong in Chinatown," starring Boris Karloff, will be seen as the companion feature.

All-Star Girls To Play Appleton

Three Star Players From Oshkosh Join Fox Valley Squad

Kaukauna — Three players from Oshkosh who were given all-state honors at the recent Madison tournament have joined the Fox Valley Girl All Stars for their game tonight against the Appleton girls' team according to Les Arndt, business manager. The contest is slated for 8 o'clock under the lights at Coppes park.

Lucille Schroeder, a pitcher who will play centerfield for the Stars, Elizabeth Schroeder, first base, and Jane Paulick, third base, are the new additions. Another outstanding player in the person of Elizabeth "Boots" Weber of Waupun, a catcher, will also appear. Miss Weber will come here with Maddy Horn of Beaver Dam, who will start for the Stars on the mound.

The rest of the opening lineup will show Jean Panabaker, Mildred Maley, Lucille Giordana and Gina Van Dyke of Kaukauna, Marion Ellis of Beaver Dam and Marge Pasch of Oshkosh. The lineup also slated to see service are Anna Mae Nyles, Grace Nagan, Betty Hawley, Flavia Kiffe and Jean Doran of Kaukauna; Dorothy VanderHoggen, Whitey Behrendt, Rose, Ann Schwanke, Kimberly, Mabel Roderick, Bunny Vickery, Phyllis Rehn, Sumario, Dolores Rivett, Green Bay and Eleanor Steidl.

Last Sunday the Stars pounded out a 26 to 10 victory over Sturgeon

Jean Charlesworth Given Los Angeles Secretarial Post

Kaukauna — Miss Jean Charlesworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Charlesworth, W. Wisconsin avenue, has accepted a secretarial position for the Southern California Building and Loan association in Los Angeles.

Visitors this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mans Borreson were Mr. and Mrs. W. Heinz of Madison.

Guests who arrived in Kaukauna yesterday for a week's stay at the Fred Groth home were Mr. and Mrs. William Parkinson and son, William, Jr., Fort Worth, Texas.

Bay, to give the latter team its first defeat in 25 games. If tonight's game draws well contests with Chicago, Milwaukee and Madison outfits may be arranged, Arndt said.

The WORLD OF STAMPS

During the bloody religious persecutions in the 16th and 17th centuries, the Huguenots, or Protestants of France were granted religious liberty by the edict of Nantes in 1598. But in 1685 the persecutions were renewed when Louis XIV revoked the edict.

Like the German Jews of today the Huguenots fled to refuge in England, Switzerland, The Netherlands, Germany, North America, and South Africa. This last nation, now a British dominion, has issued three semipostals commemorating the landing of Huguenots there in 1688.

Dutch authorities there were wary of the refugees and made sure the new settlers were dispersed and mixed with the Boers. This policy was successful to the extent that the newcomers soon dropped their religion and language—but Huguenot names such as Malherbe, Delarey and de Villiers are still held by persons in Boer settlements.

The 4 pence plus 3p is brown with a green border and depicts the Huguenot museum at South Africa. The 1p plus 1p in green with carmine trimmings pictures the sun setting at sea. And the 13p plus 13p in green with red-dish-purple border shows a South African scene. Argentina's "Fono-post" Postal officials in Argentina have thought up a new use for a postage stamp: the mailing of voice recordings. The three items, to be known as "fono-post" stamps, will probably be in 4 pesos, 5p, and 6p. The postage will pay not only the cost of mailing the phonograph discs but also the cost of recording them. If the plan works out, recording machines will be placed in Argentine postoffices. There people can talk into stamps and have their recorded messages mailed.

Christ On Stamp Bolivia has just released a 10-value set for the Eucharistic Congress of the Catholic Church. The 4 boliviano red and the 45 centavos blue bear portraits of Christ. The 3c and 10c stamps are triangular. Other denominations are 30c, 60c, 75c, 90c, 2B and 5B.

Paraguay's Heroes Two new stamps from Paraguay commemorate removal of the ashes of national heroes to the National Pantheon.

A 2-pesos ultramarine and brown carries a portrait of Carlos Antonio Lopez; a 2p blue and brown depicts Jose Eduvigis Diaz.

ASK BOWLING PERMIT The Zion Lutheran church yesterday applied for a license to operate its bowling alleys in the parish school building. The request will be turned over to the license committee of the common council.

Police Pension Fund Abolition Given Approval

Ordinance Adopted at Meeting of Clintonville Council

Clintonville — Ordinance No. 87 received its final reading and was adopted at the regular September meeting of the common council Tuesday evening. This ordinance abolishes Ordinance No. 45, which created the police pension fund in this city.

Following the resignation of Lloyd Bauer as caretaker at the Clintonville Municipal airport, P. V. Chaffee of Lake Delton was hired by the council Tuesday evening to fill the vacancy. Mr. Chaffee was also given permission to occupy the upstairs rooms of the airport residence without rent. He will move his family to Clintonville this week. Bauer, who has been actively connected with the airport and Gateway Chapter N. A. A. for the last year, left to accept a position at Racine on Sept. 1.

The Clintonville Fish and Game Protective association was granted a license to sell beer at the army on Sept. 14, when the annual meeting will be held. A beverage operator's license was granted to Lawrence Casper.

Asks Reimbursement
The complaint of Clayton Cass against the city was referred to the city attorney, the finance committee and the skating rink committee. Mr. Cass is asking reimbursement for expenses incurred when his daughter received a fractured leg in an accident at the municipal ice rink last winter.

Complaints were received from Charles Kirchner and Mrs. Hans Nath in regard to their water supply since the completion of the new city well on W. First street. Kirchner states that his fountain is furnishing very little water and the supply of water from the well on the Nath property is said to have been greatly reduced. The matter was referred to the water and light commission.

The Kirchner and Nath properties are located in the town of Lawrence just south of the new well, which is furnishing a copious supply of water to the city system. The petition of property owners

AGE AND YOUTH, THE CARDIFF GIANT AND EUROPEAN PROPAGANDA

While so much of the air is filled with war and its wild alarms we noted the 70th anniversary of the discovery of the Cardiff giant, sometimes called the American Goliath, a ten-foot man who was dug up on a New York farm in 1869.

And if that seems far away from the European battlefields and America's most important problem today the distance is illusory for it is near.

Farmer Newell hired some of his neighbors to dig a well upon his property. What were their surprise and consternation after digging down a few feet to run across a petrified mastodon of a man.

Farmer Newell was not slow in publicizing the discovery, in erecting a tent over the prehistoric remains or in charging an admission fee to see them. He did very well by the discovery and banked several thousands of dollars. That sum in those days was a fortune. But it takes a fox to catch a fox. And P. T. Barnum, of museum and circus fame, no sooner took a look at the giant than he was wise to the whole proceedings, even though he knew nothing of the details.

When Barnum's offer to buy the Cardiff giant was refused he chiseled one out of Iowa gypsum himself and boldly advertised it. This duplication of the giant brought the scientists into the affair. They announced that the American Goliath was "of very recent origin and a most decided humbug."

Perhaps a good many oldsters were taken in by the Cardiff giant and that there is no fool worse than an old one has some evidence to uphold it, but the real material from which to make the gullible is youth.

The oldsters may not always be much smarter than the youngsters but when they have lived through World War No. 1 and World War No. 2 comes while their faculties are still alert they would be super-careless were they not to recognize some of the indelible signs of propaganda.

If this war continues the oldsters will have no difficulty in foretelling the course that much of that propaganda will take.

First of all the German army will be painted as a mass of brutes outraging women, ripping children limb from limb, and dancing in glee around the terrible ruins they have wrought.

It will be well to remember the truth. Armies do not tickle wrists. War is a savage affair. In the simplest language a soldier kills lest he be killed. Armies also contain criminals. That cannot be avoided. General Pershing shot American soldiers for the crimes they committed against aged and innocent French peasants.

During World War No. 1 horrendous exhibits were produced concerning German fiendishness. Very careful investigation revealed that most of these were false and that where they were supported by evidence the acts perpetrated were individual and without the design or wish of the command.

A little reflection should show anyone that all discipline is lost from an army that is permitted to loot or sack.

The German command will inflict harsh rules and measures. If they follow their practice in 1914 they will collect hostages from among the prominent residents of invaded territory and shoot them, however innocent they may be of wrongdoing, in case civilians fire upon German troops. This is a procedure that is exceedingly rough and unjust. It has been abandoned in most quarters.

But the likelihood is great that the Germans will not treat an invaded territory and worse than the French and English will treat Germany if and when they invade it.

The fewer Cardiff giants we dig up during this war the less we will have to unlearn after it is over.

THE STATE BUDGET
Republican legislators and party leaders who in recent weeks have tried to explain why the Heil administration's budget is as high or higher than that of the preceding administration have made some enlightening observations.

The administration now in power at Madison, during the present biennium because of the increased amounts of funds which the state is returning to local governments, counties, towns, cities, villages and school districts. More than half of the present state budget, they say, consists of state aids to localities.

It is a significant explanation, if an explanation it is, and illustrates how deceptive public finance can be if the citizen accords it only casual attention.

It illustrates how government has grown more complicated. It shows that when the people of this county elect an assemblyman or a senator they are electing a representative who will not only represent them in determining how much the state government will spend on its various functions, but one who will also represent them in the financing of local government. More than half of the money which that representative will help to raise will be returned to his own locality for highways, schools, general governmental purposes, pensions, relief, the county asylums, and other functions. Moreover, most of the funds have strings attached—the state reserves the right in many instances to dictate how the funds shall be spent.

The system shows that the legislative representative has a hand in the management of both state and local government. He is an assemblyman, alderman, and supervisor combined. But more important still, it shows that before the taxpayers can expect a real reduction in state taxes, there must be economy not only at the state capitol, but in the city hall and the courthouse as well.

BITING THE HAND

From a purely personal standpoint the "whisky drinking, poker playing" attack of Jawn L. Lewis upon Mr. Garner was understandable because the vice-president had never scraped and bowed or otherwise toadied to the CIO chieftain.

But the fiery broadside of the same gentleman released on Labor Day against the President comes with poor gratitude and ill grace indeed.

Of course Mr. Lewis only declared what should be obvious to all when he said the administration had failed utterly in any constructive attack upon unemployment and other vital problems that are wearing America down. But all this was well understood as bound to happen by all who didn't lose control of their senses, and many of whom pointed constantly to the fact that Mr. Roosevelt was like unto a cat chasing its tail and getting exactly nowhere. His now denuded policy was to help Peter by robbing Paul and when Paul hollered too loud to help him by robbing Steve. It is a simple matter to fill one hole if you wish to do so by creating another and perhaps a worse one.

But Mr. Lewis played his Stradivarius in that orchestra along with Tommy the Cork, Benny the Cohen, Harry the Hop and other strange creatures.

Just for the sake of fairness and decency even between failures Czar Jawn should turn his sweltering language upon himself. Instead he turns upon the man whom he, more than anyone else, made president and whose greatest error perhaps was that he was too freely counseled by the Pennsylvania gentleman with the bushy eyebrows and was too often guided by the same source.

Verily, as Caesar had his Brutus and Charles I his Cromwell, Roosevelt has his Lewis.

WORKERS AND GOVERNMENT CAN NOT BOTH GET IT

The Wisconsin Tax Commission has issued valuable information gleaned from the 1938 financial statements of 8,000 Wisconsin corporations.

These corporations operated at an average profit of 1.2 per cent of their book value but paid almost three times that much in taxes. Their total taxes amounted to $443 for every man in their employ.

While this condition of affairs continues any man who would take his savings for investment in creating new ventures must be high in optimism. To have money available in a savings account where it draws anywhere from one to two per cent and can be secured without loss as its owner pleases is highly preferable to risking all the hazards of a business enterprise to even gain less. It might be supposed that this item of information would interest most investors and prospective investors. In reality it should be of acute interest to those who work, or do not work because they cannot find employment.

That $443 a year paid out by employers in Wisconsin for every man and woman that works for them tells its own despairing story.

Opinions of Others

EMBASSY PRISONERS
General Franco's government has been represented as eager to stimulate commercial and cultural relations between Spain and Latin America. But Senor Franco is going about the enterprise in a very odd way.

During the civil war in Spain, the Chilean embassy at Madrid sheltered some 2,000 France followers who sought refuge there from the loyalists. The latter recognizing the right of diplomatic asylum, did not molest the fugitives.

Now that the war is over, however, and his 2,000 supporters freed, General Franco has been insisting for months that the embassy hand over to him some 17 Spanish loyalists who sought cover in the embassy when Madrid was surrendered to the nationalists. The 17 include physicians, lawyers and newspapermen.

DALE HARRISON'S In Old New York

New York—Every day something amazing, startling and fairly tale-like happens in New York. One can be walking down the street. A man will come up and say, for instance: "I wish to sell you a $20 bill for 50 cents." (That happened a few years ago, and the fellow had a hard time selling the perfectly good $20 bills because people figured there must be a catch to it, and darned if they'd be suckers!)

Or a man or woman may be walking along, and someone will stop him or her and say: "I am an artist. You are just the type for a picture I am about to do. A mural for City Hall, you know. You are the Christopher Columbus (or Betsy Ross) type. If you can spare a few hours, it will be well worth your trouble."

Things like that; and the other day it happened to pretty little Mary Jane Goodwin of Greensboro, North Carolina.

Miss Goodwin with a girl friend wanted to take the NEC tour—one of those excursions that shows people broadcast studios, stars, equipment, and that sort of thing. She took her place in line, and when she bought her ticket there was a man at a machine, and he shouted: "That's the one! That's number 3,000,000!"

"My goodness!" said Mary Jane. "What's going on here?" They told her. She was the three millionth person to take the tour, and it seemed they had a hatful of honors set aside for the three millionth one. They gave her a combination photograph, a round trip to Bermuda by air, a special Rockefeller Center tour, a visit to the Radio City Music Hall, a day at the Fair, and a round of merriment at the night spots.

"My goodness!" said Miss Three Million of Greensboro.

It occurred to me that the thrill of such pleasant surprises that burst under the noses of unsuspecting visitors must be counterbalanced in part by new problems created by the unexpected turn of events. For instance, Miss Goodwin never dreamed of becoming Cinderella, and therefore could hardly have been prepared. Was she embarrassed in any way? Did she feel self-conscious by reason of not having evening gowns, a special hair-do, and so forth?

Yes, she acknowledged, she had several minutes of worry about clothes. She had brought only a few street dresses, for she had planned to go only to the Fair, where to primp and dress up, is strictly nonsense. But the people who had waved the fairy wand just because she was Miss Three Million, quickly dispelled her fears about her wardrobe. They assigned companions who dressed equally simply and sensibly, and they cavaliere her to no places where being dressed up is regarded as important.

Mary Jane couldn't take the Bermuda trip because her vacation was nearly ended, but a wire from her mother told that her employer had said he would be happy to extend the vacation, if she wished. However, Mary Jane's vacation already had been thrill-packed, and she decided to save Bermuda for next year. Mary Jane said one of the nicest things about being Miss Three Million was that in all the festivities provided for her, her girl friend had been included. (If her girl friend had changed places with Mary Jane in the line to buy tickets, SHE would have been Miss Three Million, and Mary Jane would have been just No. 3,000,001, which didn't count.)

Miss Goodwin has returned to Greensboro and the routine of her insurance company job, but when we talked with her she said she "hadn't come down to earth yet," and that her experience was "just one of those things a girl dreams about, but never expects to happen."

Having in mind what Governor Luren Dickinson of Michigan recently said about New York being a "hellish brink" for young women, we asked Miss Goodwin if she agreed with Governor Dickinson.

"New York men are perfect gentlemen," she said. "And who, by the way, is Governor Dickinson?"

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Sept. 5, 1929

The city council the previous evening voted to buy ornamental lights for College avenue.

William H. Zuehlke was named delegate to the national encampment of the Spanish War Veterans at Denver, Colo.

The boys work committee of the Appleton Y called a meeting to organize the fall and winter program. Members of the committee were W. E. Smith, chairman, Frank Sager, A. R. Eads, Elmer Root, John Sjolander, A. G. Oosterhaus, H. H. Hild, and Frank Younger, Carl Bertram, and A. P. King.

Mrs. John J. Jones won the prize for low net score at the Butte des Morts weekly women's golf tournament. Mrs. Arthur Scheil had the lowest number of putts.

25 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Sept. 10, 1914

Winners in the contest to guess the number of nails in a can at the valley fair—the contest sponsored by the Ideal Lumber and Fuel company—were announced. They were George Belg, Elmer Horn, Herman Schultz, Mrs. G. H. Buchert, all of Appleton; and Jule Kerr, Kaukauna.

The following officers of the St. Thomas Young Men's society were elected at a meeting the previous evening: William J. Ferron, president; J. Cosgrove, vice president; the Rev. M. A. Hauch, treasurer; George P. Barry, financial secretary; Desmond Cosgrove, recording secretary; Lawrence Van Roy and George Calmin, trustees.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

RURAL MAILMAN
Whether her day is dark or fair
Has no relation to the sun.
The cool breath of the rain-washed air
The red sky when the day is done
Do not affect this darling one.

But if a battered car draws near
By ten o'clock on any day,
The mailman clears the atmosphere.
No matter if the world is gray,
Before him shadows melt away!

I wonder if the mailman knows
He is a carrier of joy!
Because of him the morning glows
It is a world without alloy!
She has a letter from The Boy!

up and Spain refusing to pledge them safe conduct.

Other Latin American countries are rallying around Chile. Feeling against the Spanish government has risen at times to such heat that Spanish diplomats in Chile have had to be given police guards. Even strongly pro-nationalist newspapers in Mexico and elsewhere have condemned General Franco's attitude.

The Spanish "caudillo" may be within his rights under international law, but he certainly appears to be getting off on the wrong foot insofar as relations with the New World are concerned.—New York World-Telegram.

A Bystander In Washington

BY FRESTON GROVER

Washington—The current, panic among some of the higher-ranking army officers over the state of national defense isn't shared 100 per cent by others who have a hand in keeping the enemy from our doors.

Maneuvers at Plattsburg and Manassas disclosed, among other things, that the top-ranking reserve and national-guard officers—those from colored up—aren't especially good. There were exceptions. One reserve general at Manassas, we have been told, did a smart job.

But it was no surprise to the ranks of the army to find this was the case. It is a common joke in the army that fully half the colonels and generals in the reserve would be put to selling Liberty bonds should war start. Some of the others would be told to stay home and take care of the kiddies. Some would be worth a thousand times every dollar of government money spent in training them.

However, nobody expects the early stages of our war to be fought with armies commanded by reserve or even national-guard generals. There are in the regular army a well-known group of upper-bracket officers who will stack up nicely in a fight. They can compute how much railroad and highway space it takes to move 20,000 men with equipment to a designated spot. They know how to go about getting food there. And if the 20,000 must be expended to 200,000 quickly they won't be altogether at a loss.

One Thing Has Changed
The big difference between the present condition of national defense and the condition in 1917 lies in other directions. Then we had an army completely unacquainted with the civilian personnel that makes up the real national defense. That condition has been largely corrected.

A widespread R.O.T.C. organization has been set up in the colleges on a voluntary basis. Regular army instructors have learned how to adapt army methods to civilian dispositions. Out of those college groups, and from other sources, there has been built up a force of 120,000 fairly well-trained reserve officers. That is more than enough for a million men. When the World War started the reserve-officer personnel could have been loaded in a freight car—with spare room for four horses.

These reserve officers, in turn, have demonstrated themselves able to train and command civilian soldiers. They have worked with the C.M.T.C. and with the C.C.C.

Potential Soldiers
As to the potential trained manpower, it lies largely in two directions. Since the Citizens' Military Training Corps was organized, 350,000 men have received varying amounts of training.

An even greater potential supply is in the 2,500,000 men who have spent time in the Civilian Conservation Corps. Recently there has been a lot of agitation to have C.C.C. men receive military training—for instance, to learn foot drill and gun drill.

We watched C.M.T.C. youngsters at drill this summer. They learned the essentials of foot drill in four days, two hours a day. Teaching them to shoot would take longer—but not so terribly much longer.

Experienced soldiers insist that there is one thing new soldiers lack. They don't know how to take up outdoor camp life after years in the comfort of their homes. They get that knowledge in C.C.C. camps. They learn group living, how to give and take orders, how to get along without pet foods. It would surprise their mothers how fast they could be made into fighting men.

Just a Step Behind the News

By Dave Boone

The Poles know that the French and British are coming to their assistance, and the Germans know it. But I'm beginning to wonder if the French and British know I'd hate to be rescued in such slow motion.

This business of the British bombing planes dropping leaflets on the Germans has me mighty skeptical. Can you imagine the Germans hearing the air raid alarm, rushing for cover and then peeking out and finding a few leaflets fluttering down on them? An anti-climax like that must make 'em madder than ever at the allies.

The way those radio stations suddenly dropped the war was the event of the week. A radio performer can now get all through his act without having to fight any of the European armies or navies.

It was almost as if the radio people had given the European war an audition and then dropped it as lacking radio appeal.

If it's true that the Bremen got safely into a neutral port, it shows the British muffed a big chance. Uncle Sam practically handed the $200,000 liner over to the British and she's going away. Maybe the British tried to take her with lefties.

Withdraws in Favor of Friend but Is Elected

Hopkinsville, Ky.—(AP)—Fred L. Weir withdrew from the race for Democratic nomination for state treasurer to support a friend in the recent Kentucky primary.

But when Christian county (Hopkinsville) votes were tabulated, Weir had nearly twice as many as the friend.

Weir campaigned for the state for Russell Fryman. The vote in this county was: Weir 628, Fryman 320. Fryman also lost in other parts of the state.

FERDINAND'S NEW PLAYMATE

Under the CAPITOL DOME

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—John Garner is coming to town.

The biggest event on the Wisconsin Democratic calendar during the next half year or so is the scheduled visit of the vice president of the United States, and candidate for the presidency, to Wisconsin to advance personally his campaign for Garner—pledged delegates to the next national convention.

It has hardly been a secret during the last three or four months that the leaders of the Democratic regulars in Wisconsin are Garner men, among them Chairman William D. Carroll of the state committee. About all that Carroll has done in his capacity of state chairman since the beginning of the year has been to boom Garner wherever he goes.

What is more significant is the fact that some of the men in Wisconsin Democratic circles who have been considered as Roosevelt men, and who have accepted New Deal pap, are ready to hoist themselves aboard the Garner bandwagon.

JOB COMPLICATIONS
If Major Rickeman of Racine gets the highly prized directorship of the new motor vehicle division (as he probably will) have by the time this reaches print there will be some interesting footnotes which aren't likely to be included in the governor's press release announcing the appointment.

First there is the fact that locally Rickeman was considered a Coalitionist, and he hasn't severed many coalitionists with jobs thus far.

Second, the appointment marks the first, as far as is known, intercession by Lt. Gov. Walter Goodland in administration patronage matters. Rickeman acted in the capacity of a manager for Goodland during the latter's 1938 campaign, and as the politicians say, the lieutenant governor "went to bat" for his friend with considerable vigor.

Third, all the dopesters in the party were predicting that the job would go to Hugh Jones of Bloomer, who apparently had the most support from among the party moguls themselves.

Add patronage note: Stephen J. McMahon of Milwaukee, formerly of Appleton, who ran for the U. S. senate nomination last fall, is reported to have been burning up the wires to Madison in recent weeks in quest of the directorship of the new state tax commission.

G. O. P. DISSATISFACTION

A constant source of surprise to the political reporter is the fact that there are so many Republican party men antagonistic to Heil for one reason or another who will confide eagerly, but "off the record," that they hope to be able to help Robert K. Henry defeat the present governor for the nomination at the next Republican convention.

Note: Henry is reliably reported to be soliciting advice on his course now, and is expected to make a final decision within a month. His problem is: whether to run on the Democratic or Republican tickets, or both once more; whether to run for the senate or the governorship.

Additional reports from the Wausau conference of the Young Progressive organization indicate that the two organizers chosen for the Eighth congressional district, Dominic Olejniczak of Green Bay and Urban Van Sustern of Little Chute,

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

RABIES CAPITAL OF NORTH AMERICA

Birmingham, Alabama, population 258,203, forty per cent Negro, has 26,609 dogs of established ownership, many more ownerless strays. The city is in the county of Jefferson. Dr. J. D. Dowling, Jefferson county health officer, and Dr. George A. Denison, director of the county health department laboratories, reports that 42,947 persons received anti-rabies treatment (the Semple modification of Pasteur "virus" supplied by the Birmingham or Jefferson county health department) during the past seven years; 11,218 animals have received a positive diagnosis of rabies; 48 persons died of rabies.

That's a lot of rabies, even for the "rabies capital" of North America, as these Birmingham health authorities say the area has been considered.

It is a lot of hokey, too, one is constrained to conclude from a study of this unusually frank report of the Birmingham health authorities (Jour. A. M. A., July 29, '39).

We have room here to quote a few observations made in this report, which indicate that the rabies racket is beginning to give some uneasiness to doctors who think for themselves. Still, in this very report giving the honest conclusions reached by honest, courageous experts with extensive experience in dealing with the phobia (as I call it), some of the venerable delusions of the benighted medical fathers clash with the facts elicited by scientific study and experience. The report not only presages the end of lysophobia in America but clearly reflects the characteristic bigotry of the medical mind which enables the rabies racket to thrive.

"The original Pasteur treatment and its several modifications have become generally accepted as reasonably safe and highly effective in preventing rabies among human beings. This, together with the ready availability of the vaccine (that is, Pasteur virus) used in the Pasteur treatment, the ease of its administration, the morbid fears of a misinformed public regarding the disease, the apparent 100 per cent mortality among those actually infected and untreated and the general failure on the part of responsible parties to limit treatment to those for whom it is definitely indicated, are all factors which commonly lead to indiscriminate administration of vaccine (Pasteur treatment)."

One wonders why the original Pasteur treatment has undergone several modifications if it is generally accepted as reasonably safe and highly effective. Further along in the report the Birmingham authorities, having maintained that Pasteur treatment and its several modifications are reasonably safe lay aside the familiar cloak of bigotry and express their honest conviction:

"Vaccine (Pasteur virus) paralysis, or other serious complications, resulting from administration of vaccine are probably more frequent than the development of rabies from any exposure other than an actual bite; and in advising treatment one should carefully weigh the possibilities of death or permanent injury from vaccine against the possibilities of death from rabies."

And it would seem that one must view the question from the dual angle of candidates for legislative offices next year. The Green Bay representative hankers for a senate seat. It is said, with probably opposite Harold A. Lytle, present second term assemblyman. Van Sustern would complete in the second Outagamie district.

HAD COMPLAINTS

Miami, Fla.—(AP)—One guess whom this apartment-house owner was talking to.

Trains, he complained, rumbled nearby at all hours, shaking the building and cracking the walls. A mattress factory next door sent dust into all 10 apartments in the building. Power saws at a stone-processing plant nearby went "whirr" all day long. A used car lot on the opposite corner kept a loud-speaker blaring continuously.

Yes, he was talking to the tax board trying to get his assessment reduced.

What Is Your News I. Q.?

Each question counts 20, each part of a two-part question, 19. A score of 60 is fair, 80 good. Answers on market page.

1. Who is this crown princess who has given birth to a second daughter?
2. Why did a young artist say he stole Watteau's "L'Enfer" from the Louvre gallery in Paris?
3. What new sports record probably was prevented by Pennsylvania's blue law?
4. Who was Mrs. Adela Langer, whose funeral in Chicago recently was attended by 10,000 persons?
5. Was the comment, "Neither threats nor love letters impress us," made by (1) Mrs. Clark Gable, (2) Hermann Goering, or (3) Neville Chamberlain?

Pegler Sees Fritz Kuhn as Best Anti-Nazi Propaganda

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—The best anti-Nazi propaganda in the United States is neither Jew nor Englishman but a more or less naturalized Aryan German intimate of Adolf Hitler himself. His name is Fritz Kuhn, he is publisher of the German-American Bund, and he has been fought no less angrily by leaders of the Steuben society of America than by the B'nai B'rith, the Czechs, the British and the Poles.

Two years ago Theodore H. Hoffmann, national chairman of the Steuben society, denounced Kuhn as an interloper who would presume to tell the members what they might think, where they must buy, what they might read, for whom they must vote and what color of clothes they must wear.

Mr. Hoffmann concluded by demanding, "who anointed this Fritz with the sacred castor oil of divine dominion?"

About the same time a prominent member of the society wrote:

"We in the Steuben society have always been up against a stone wall when it came to a question of getting suitable publicity in the English press of New York. On the other hand, the nazis have never failed to get front page publicity. This type of co-operation has hurt the cause of those Americans of German extraction who are seeking to stamp out nazism and keep hatred, prejudice and intolerance from our shores."

"Unfortunately, our Jewish constituents have been letting their hatred of the German government be visited on German-American business men. This is not common practice among Jewish employers and other Jewish people, but it is, nevertheless, evidenced in many business organizations and places of employment."

Mr. Kuhn, it should be emphasized, is in the interests of internal compromise and tolerance, is a humiliation and a plague to the decent, patriotic American of German birth or extraction. He has been repudiated by experts, and he speaks only for himself and a small, ignorant alien minority and for his own fuhrer. The purposes of his bund is revealed in quotations from nazi official documents proclaiming that all persons of German blood "be-long to Hitler's state, no matter to which state they have sworn al-legiance." That includes many na-tive and naturalized Americans who fiercely resent the ascription.

Book Shows Purpose of Foreign Groups

These quotations, published in book form under the title The German Reich and Americans of Ger-man Origin, under the sponsorship of Nicholas Murray Butler, Samuel Seabury, Henry L. Stimson, Mon-signor Ryan and others, expose the purpose of Fuhrer Kuhn. One says: "We reject the concept of a cosmopolitan German whose chief ambition is to assimilate with the people of the country in which he lives." Another says: "In addition to the official German legation there are now established local groups of the nazi party foreign organizations in 60 countries of the world."

Another, taken from an official speech by E. W. Bohle, fuhrer of the nazi department for the fomenta-tion of treason in foreign coun-tries, officially known as the for-eign organization of the party, says: "The main accusation against the foreign organization and party comrades abroad is that we are causing unrest in the German col-onies and destroying their unity. If fight means unrest, then we admit we created unrest."

There are many other gems, but these suffice to prove the mission and attachment of Kuhn's bund and to indicate the embarrassment suffered by many loyal Americans by reason of Kuhn's speeches and the failure of their fellow-Americans to distinguish between those who follow and those who lead him. That embarrassment and the injustice of it will increase unless the press does learn to give appropriate coverage to acts of repudia-tion and the people, especially the Jew, to learn to distinguish the se-ditious bundsman from the legiti-mate American.

Kuhn promises to "throw out of office" the president of the United States, a threat which, uttered against Hitler in Germany by no matter whom, would qualify the speaker for an appointment at the chopping block. Some Americans, particularly some of German birth or blood, might wish to lock him up, beat him up or leave him out. But on second thought, all who de-test Hitlerism would prefer to let him stay, realizing that every time he opens his mouth he aggravates the decent hatred of everything he represents.

He is, by paradox, the greatest single force against Hitlerism now operating among us. If he is dan-gerous at all it is only because his insolence might goad this coun-try into active participation in the war against the loathesomeness of which he is a worthy spokesman.

Sequence of Bridge Hand Is Criticized

"The bidding:

South West North East

3 hearts Pass 2 no trump Pass

4 spades Pass 6 hearts Pass

7 hearts Pass 6 hearts Pass

"In the actual play, West opened the king of diamonds, dummy winning with the ace. A small heart was led and the queen was finessed, losing to the singleton king in West's hand. Was every bid right, and also, should declarer have played the heart ace, hoping to drop the king?

"E.T.T., New York."

The best comment on the final contract is to point out that, even if North and South had held eleven trumps between them, lacking the king, they would have had only slightly better than an even chance to drop the king, and therefore, since a grand slam should have almost a three to one chance of success (to be a "spectacular" bid), it would not have been justified. Obviously, with only ten trumps lacking the king, a grand slam was an even worse gamble.

The fault in my opinion, lay with South. His two heart bid was justified, as was his four spade bid, but he should not have bid seven hearts over North's six.

From South's point of view there was grave danger that some of North's values were in diamonds, where they would be worthless. This is not to say that I approve North's bidding. I do not like the unnecessary jump from two hearts to three no trump. I suggest the following as the logical sequence:

South West North East

2 hearts Pass 3 hearts Pass

3 spades Pass 4 spades Pass

3 no trump Pass 5 diamonds Pass

6 hearts Pass Pass

North's raise of spades on the second round would be slightly unorthodox, but extremely logical. His prior heart raise would, in a sense, establish the trump suit and therefore his raise of spades should be taken by South more or less in the nature of a cue bid showing a control. Then, when South's conventional four no trump bid located the worthless diamond ace in the North hand, South naturally would be satisfied with a small slam.

As to the finesse for the heart king, instead of trying for the drop, declarer's play was absolutely correct. There was a far greater chance of being successful with the finesse than of dropping the singleton king from West.

THE HOME GARDENER

by EDWIN H. PERKINS

For bright blooms in early spring sow columbine seeds now. The section of the country in which you live seems to make little difference to columbines for they grow equally well on the highest of our mountain ranges, where snow and ice cover them for long periods, and in our warm southern lowlands, where many plants find the temperature and excessive water in the soil disagreeable.

Available are a wide range of species from which a choice can be made. The old-fashioned columbine is short-spurred and comes in single and double types colored blue or white or sometimes mixed. This is a persistent grower and when once started self-seeds, thus insuring a never-ending supply of blooms. It is not a rampant grower, however, and seldom becomes a pest. The other end of the scale is topped with long-spurred types, the spurs of which may exceed four inches in length. These better sorts show wider colorings and whites, pinks, reds and blues are to be had along with a few yellows. Again, buying a specialist's seeds is advocated since mongrels galore creep into columbine mixtures.

Columbines are of easiest cultivation. Prepare a seed bed by thorough cultivation. Add sand and humus to lighten it and some—not much—thoroughly decayed manure for food. Sow the seeds in rows, covering them lightly. Water them and transplant to permanent quarters when strong enough. They may be planted where they are to bloom. Sow two seeds and weed out the weaker plant in this plan.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

To encourage her grooming a wise mother presented her collegian daughter with a lovely silver dresser set so she might keep her hair a-shine and scrutinize her make-up before facing her public.

We go to school to learn more than the three R's. The girl who goes to college today, to finishing school, or even to high school, is given the opportunity to learn how to adjust herself to that portion of society in which she will find herself immediately after graduation.

During these formative years our personal ego (with all its eccentricities) is mellowed. We learn we are but a tiny speck in life's scheme of things, and we must learn also how to best submerge ourselves to live harmoniously, yet constructively, with others. Knowledge gained, and habits formed, before we reach maturity, usually abide with us for life. And the young girl who grasps the essential rules of life at an early age, is more than likely to be an admired, loved, happy woman of charm in later years.

Casual or Sloppy?

To most freshmen at college (or boarding school) it will be difficult to determine just when casualness of manner, dress and grooming ends, and when sloppiness begins. But there is a definite borderline and she who steps over it is never among the popular girls of her group!

It is perfectly natural to want to be comfortable in easy clothes at school, and to wear one's hair simply, and to go without make-up. You are young, you are carefree, you want to be healthy. All well and good. But if your casual clothes are unclean with perspiration or food spots, and if your hair is untidy and in need of a shampoo, and if your skin is blemished through indifference to skin care and corrective menus—then you have stepped over the border and through being indifferent to the necessary details of good grooming you sacrificed your right to popularity.

Remember These Things

The girls who are truly the leaders are usually meticulous in their personal grooming. They may brag about their indifference, but behind the scenes you will find them caring for their skin, brushing their hair, keeping their clothes in good order, and taking every precaution that no day will find their personal daintiness in question. Those are the girls who are popular on campus and off campus! They cherish the knowledge that proper menus keep skin clean, that sleep is required for developing beauty and certain beauty aids are necessary—even for the blessed young!

No girl should pack for school without including these aids. Her beauty, health and happiness will depend greatly upon them. No luxuries are included (other than perfume) and as many may be added as the individual desires. Brush, comb, mirror. Three tooth brushes and cleanser. Small bottle of antiseptic.

Pure cleansing cream and face tissues.

Weather protective cream—to serve all months.

Hand lotion and manicure aids (also used for feet).

Good lathering soap for type of water.

Deodorant or anti-perspirant

Tweezers.

Powder to match skin tone and lipstick (rouge if desired).

Cologne or perfume of good quality.

Several powder puffs (to be shampooed frequently).

Hand brush or bath brush.

Reliable shampoo (tonic if hair needs it).

1 dozen rough Turkish face cloths (washed often).

Razor or depilatory.

Every girl knows which hand-grooming accessories she needs such as a small comb, powder compact, eye cosmetics. Those are for parties and week-ends.

With these at hand there is no excuse for any girl being other than well groomed, and good grooming habits should be acquired during the first week at school and continued throughout the year.

The leaflet "Beauty at Small Cost" tells girls how to groom for little money. Enclose self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope if you ask for it. Write me care of this paper.

Good Taste Today

Don't Level Family Life Down To Power of Weakest Member

BY ANGELO PATRI

"I can't imagine what is the matter with that boy of mine. Every once in a while, try as I may, he goes into a tantrum about something or other, and always he is abused: I am partial to his sister or to his younger brother; he never gets a chance; brother or sister gets just the thing he or she wants although it may have been offered him first and he refused it. 'I lean over backward trying to treat all the children alike and I can't do a thing with this child's disposition.'"

It is, in my experience, a mistake to try to treat all children alike. There are no two alike, not even twins. No two members of a family are alike, nor do they always love each other and work harmoniously together. Treating them alike is to treat some of them unjustly. The best way out is to study each one as he grows from day to day and try to give him what he needs regardless of what the others need.

One child tires easily while another can go all day long without a break. Give the easily tired child an afternoon rest, a special diet, longer hours of sleep. Immediately this makes a difference in the family routine, but it should not trouble anybody, especially the tireless one.

One child does well at school and his brother, maybe the older, does poorly. The bright child is promoted rapidly and leaves his brother behind. Is the fast one to be held back for the slow one? Never. Let each go at his own rate of speed.

It is cruel to try to alter the speed of development of any child. If he is slow he must be helped and urged to his rhythm, but holding back the fast child will not help the slow one at all. It will ruin the fast one, so there are two special cases on one's mind instead of one.

One child sticks out of the family like a sore thumb. He wants what he cannot have; he will insist that he wants to do something he cannot do; he does not want to do what he can, or what he ought to do. This child keeps the family on edge, trying to avoid rousing his negative temper, trying to find a way to keep him going along pleasantly. Usually they meet with scant success.

Don't try to level the family life down to the power of its weakest member. That is the tendency always, but it will not work. The weak one grows weaker and he drags down the others. Give each his chance. Let each progress as fast and as fully as he can, and let the slow, the weak one round about with silence, kindness, and much letting alone.

Have the children's specialist see him and follow his advice. Do what is possible for him, but don't try to treat him as you do his brothers and sisters. It won't do any good. When he makes himself unpleasant, send him off to do some useful chore. If it is his time, send him to rest. Remove him from the scene of his difficulty and let the rest of the family go ahead. It is impossible to treat all children alike. It is a mistake to try to do so.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Women in Business Cause of Endless Domestic Problems

BY DOROTHY DIX

When the doors of the commercial world were first opened to women it seemed to them that they were entering a new heaven and a new earth. They rejoiced, for no longer need they eat the bitter bread of dependence. No longer were they doomed to the humiliation of being unwanted guests in the houses of their relatives and friends. No longer would they be maddened by the sense of frustration because their brains, their talents, their energies were denied all power of expression.

DOROTHY DIX

So it is no wonder that they shouted loud hosannas and felt that as business women they were sitting pretty on top of the world, without even a cloud on their horizons. Didn't their pay envelopes jingle in their handbags? Couldn't they marry or stay single as they chose? By keeping on with their jobs couldn't they hurry up the weddings that would have to be deferred for years and years if they had to wait for the boys they were in love with to make enough money to marry on?

So what? But as time has gone on and the noble experiment has worked itself out, they have found out that there are a lot of complications in this woman-in-business proposition that they had not foreseen. They have learned that it does more to mess up the love lives of men and women, and break hearts, and promote divorce than all other causes combined.

For nowhere else does propinquity have such a chance to do its perfect work as in a business office. Men and women who work side by side, day by day, who have the same interests, who know the same things, who can talk shop endlessly together find points of congeniality that draw them together. They get to be a habit with each other and to depend on each other. And without their knowing it, without their intending it, they fall in love.

Out of this spring the tragedies of the men who find that their wise, poised, understanding and sympathetic secretaries are women in the need in maturity instead of the selfish, silly little nits who they married in their youth and the wreck of the lives of fine, big-souled women who fall in love with the married men with whom they work, but who have too much integrity to be willing to break up another woman's home and half-orphan little children.

Of course, hearts have never been subject to discipline, but they went astray far less in the day when the two sexes met each other rarely except in formal society when a married man knew few women except his wife's friends, and girls associated only with eligible young men.

It is the working together that gives Old Man Temptation his chances to make trouble and raises such problems as the one that confronts this young man, who writes:

"I am a young man and have been married nearly three years to a wonderful little wife. I have no complaint whatever against her, but I have fallen in love with a sweet girl with whom I am closely associated in business. We see each other every day and she loves me, too, and we feel we can't go on as we are. She advises that we try and forget one another, but this I cannot possibly do. She has become a part of my life. So what must I do?"

Who knows? Who is wise enough to solve the problems that women's economic independence has brought about?

"On the Wrong Side of the Tracks"

Dear Miss Dix—I am 20 years old and very much in love with a fine young man of whom my parents heartily disapprove because his family is on a lower social level than ours. He has a good job with a chance for promotion and is well able financially to take care of me. He is a splendid character with no bad habits and is very popular in his home town. No objection to him except his family, which is respectable, but not aristocratic. My parents contend that his lack of background will be a constant source of embarrassment. I can't stand the thought of choosing between him and them, yet I know it is a problem that has to be faced, because I can't go around and meet him secretly as I have done for the last three years. Are my parents right in the position they are taking? Have I not a right to make my choice of a husband myself? Won't a love that has stood a three-years' struggle like ours be strong enough to last a lifetime? For weeks I have thought of nothing else and as yet I have not reached a decision.

DESPERATE GIRL.

Answer: I cannot advise a girl to marry against her parents' wishes, and yet I think they are entirely wrong in preventing her from marrying the man she loves if there is nothing against him except that he doesn't belong to the Vere de Veres.

I think that parents are justified in doing everything in their power to keep a daughter from marrying a drunkard, a gambler, or an immoral man, or one who is a ne'er-do-well who has never even supported himself and who would certainly starve his wife. But they

CASE RECORDS OF A PSYCHOLOGIST

By Dr. George W. Crane
Psychologist, Northwestern University

If the churches have unexcelled merchandise to offer our society, why aren't they merchandising it more successfully? Try to take an unbiased attitude and then make a survey of your church as if you were a practical business man.

CASE O-140: Lemuel T., aged 35, is a clergyman here in Chicago.

"I notice that you have frequently urged people to utilize the church as a great aid toward building happy personalities," he began.

"And I have read with great interest your list of assets which the church contributes to society, such as hospitals and colleges, Salvation Army, Red Cross, settlement work, kindergartens, the Boy Scouts and such desirable organizations.

"You say that every intelligent individual should get into some church and actively put his shoulder to the wheel, for the church is unrivaled in modern society for its beneficial influences.

"Well, why is it that half of our nation don't belong to churches, and among the other half, a large portion is very lukewarm? How would you recommend that we make people more church minded, Dr. Crane?"

DIAGNOSIS

It is a business psychology truism that when you have sterling merchandise on the shelves, and when your public really needs that merchandise, it ought to sell itself. If it doesn't, then it may be priced too high, or else the merchandising methods aren't correct.

Certainly the churches have unequalled "merchandise," if I may be permitted to continue with this business analogy. And the public needs it as much today as ever in history, to judge by what is happening at home and abroad in the way of selfishness, brutality, land piracy and paganism.

was a beach-comber," he replied glibly.

"When you run out of a story-book background, would you tell me what you really do?" There! She had started asking him questions again and she really hadn't meant to.

It didn't really make any difference. No matter what she said Locke was not for answering her seriously. "Do you mean how do I live in this workaday world? I'll tell you. I get along on very little, earning a few cents here, a few cents there. Just enough to get by and see what's going on in the world. Why, only yesterday I sold a mess of fish to Mrs. Arnold down the road. Made a pretty penny, too. May take fishing up seriously."

"It's nice work," Cecily felt unreasonably aggravated by the result of her probing.

"I say," he got up and walked toward her window. "You've got just the place for it."

"For what?"

"You could put a partition up here, cover it with glass and floor it with salt ice."

Cecily watched him, amused. "It would attract attention to the boat and bring the curious."

"Whatever are you talking about?"

"The window. Make a great display case and add a little life to the place to set it filled with a few fish. We might catch only the ones that matched the color scheme here."

"Fish in the window?"

"Certainly. I'm offering you to partnership. How about it? I'll catch the fish and you'll sell 'em. Start a little competition with the other. Nothing to lose, and some day when you're head of the Vickersport Chamber of Commerce, I hope that you will remember me when you make speeches. That's all the reward I ask. I will feel that in my small way I have helped to carry a share in the development of the world's business, been even a remote part of the industry that has made Maine . . ."

"Fascinated"

"Do you mind selling your fish somewhere else, Mr. Locke?"

"Mr. Locke deflected. 'Sorry, didn't mean to bore you. That's the way I am when I get an impetuous thought. And it's Locke, not Mr. Locke.'"

"You weren't boring me," she said contritely. "In fact, I'm fascinated. I was only thinking that

Besides, the church puts no price tag on its contribution to society. So the difficulty must lie in faulty merchandising or advertising methods.

What's Wrong With The Churches

Suppose we make a scientific analysis of the modern church. What do we find? Very imposing looking edifices. Could they be too cold and awesome? Christ did his best preaching out in the open air where it was cheery, where birds were singing or grain fields waved golden in the sunlight.

Business houses have long ago learned that an eerie or "stocky" atmosphere and semi-darkness produce bankruptcy. People are not in the "closing" mood, whether for signing a church pledge or an order blank, when they feel unable to talk above a whisper and the general atmosphere partakes of a funeral.

know that I think about you, wonder about you?" She didn't say any of those things.

Nor did she say that she was thinking: "In a little while he will be gone and then there will be another week or perhaps longer until I see him. And in between times I'll wonder if he has enough to eat. A gentleman of the road. Yes, he was definitely a gentleman. You saw it in his face and in his manner. Cecily corrected the word manner to manners. Anyone could have a manner. Manners meant breeding. Philip Callen had manner. She did not admit Philip to Locke's category.

"Then I suppose you know the habits of the little wild things, the birds, the bees and all that?"

"I know a place, not very far from here that I think you'd like. You walk through a pine wood to get to it and suddenly you come on a cove where the waves pound on a white beach and there's lots of dried seaweed for a roaring blaze. I also know how to cook a fine steak and bake potatoes in that fire."

"Near here?" she asked eagerly. "It's a secret hideaway of mine," he cautioned. "It's a long walk, long enough to work up an appetite. And after you've rested your weary bones and filled the inner man—not to mention the inner woman—with the salt of the earth and a little of the sea, you lie back on the sands and watch the stars fill the bowl of the heavens. Would you like to see it?"

Cecily's lips parted and her eyes glowed.

"Yes," she said softly.

Strictly Business

"Sunday?"

"Great! No high heels and no powder puffs. We'll adventure life in the raw, in a manner of speaking. Got a good stout pair of boots?"

"Yes, and a warm sweater."

"I see. You've experienced such a great adventure before?"

"Not like this one," she said truthfully.

"We shall see," he answered. "Now, then, all else that you will need is a good appetite, a long stride and a stout walking-stick."

"For walking or protection?"

"Only for walking," he said reassuringly, and Cecily felt embarrassed.

She hastened on. "What time will you come by for me?"

"I'm not coming to Darelea," he said. "I'll meet you at the fork leading to the North road at three o'clock. On?"

"Why won't you come to Darelea?"

He looked away from her, his face setting. Then he looked back and he was grinning. "Have you forgotten the posse?"

Darelea. He stood in the shadows until he saw the big door open to let her in. If she could have seen his face then, she would have seen that the bantering light had left his eyes, that the lines beside his laughing mouth were set resolutely.

He lingered there for a few minutes. Then—when the door had closed behind her—noiselessly, with an Indian tread, he entered the gates. His feet made no sound on the pebble path. He left the path where it turned toward the porch and swung around to the side of the house. Toward the side where the long drawing-room windows showed a slit of light between the drawn curtains.

Unobserved, he peered into the room that Cecily had entered, then quietly faded into the night.

Cecily sank into a chair.

"Well," Philip inquired brightly, "how did the party come off without my scintillating presence?"

"It wasn't a party," Cecily returned. "It was strictly a business arrangement and it was quite a success."

"Olivia"—Philip appealed to his hostess by the name she had insisted upon—"what am I going to do with my little career woman? Do you suppose when we're married that she's going to take her work seriously?"

Under his lids, he flashed a mocking glance at Cecily. Cecily wanted to slap him.

"You know Cecily better than I do, Philip," Olivia answered. "You must know that she is not the flip-pant type. I trust that you'll be able to handle that situation when the time comes."

A lot he knows me! Cecily's thoughts would have soared Philip—not to mention Olivia—had they known what was passing through her mind.

She thought: Every day this situation gets more difficult. I ought to speak to Aunt Olivia, but, if I do, I'll only make her unhappy. It would sound so terribly silly of me to have done such a thing as to lie about Philip.

She realized that it would appear to be more than silly to Olivia. And thinking of it, she was right back in the endless circle of her thoughts, that ran on when she

State Medical Society Will Hold Annual Parley Next Week

Madison — Wisconsin physicians will have an opportunity next week to acquaint themselves with recent advances in all fields of medical care, when they attend the ninety-eight anniversary meeting of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin. This meeting will be held in Milwaukee on September 13, 14, and 15, with sessions in the Milwaukee Auditorium and the Schroeder Hotel.

For this year's program, emphasis has been placed on a spirit of cooperation with the "man in the field," the general practitioner. The family doctor must be alert to many problems, as he is the first line of defense of the nation in its constant warfare against accidents, disease and ill health.

Outstanding physicians from all parts of the country, many from our own state, will relate their experiences with new methods of weighing the problem of what she should do.

Continued tomorrow.

Appleton Federated Woman's Club Board Outlines Plans for Opening of Autumn Activities

AUTUMN activities of the Appleton Federated Woman's club were outlined at the first board meeting of the fall season this morning at the club house. The first event on the calendar is the general meeting Sept. 14; a week from today, when members will tour two Neenah and Menasha homes following a dessert luncheon at the Valley Inn, Neenah.

Mrs. Roy Marston and Mrs. Burton Manser will act as hostesses for the dessert luncheon, and Mrs. E. W. Nelson and Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows will be hostesses for the tour. The women will visit the William Belacks modernistic home on E. Forest avenue, Neenah, and the George Banta, Jr., home, Riverlea, Menasha.

Reservations are to be made at the club house or with Mrs. J. Bon Davis, chairman of the program. The meeting will be for members only.

The board also made plans to sponsor a public card party at 7:30 the evening of Sept. 21 at the Thomas Flanagan home, route 2.

During the fall an appeal will be made for dolls which members of the club will dress and then turn over to the Y. M. C. A. for distribution to needy children at Christmas time.

Club Officers

Officers of the club this season are Mrs. L. M. Schindler, president; Mrs. W. F. McGowan, first vice president; Mrs. Jay Wallens, second vice president; Mrs. W. E. Hoppe, recording secretary; Mrs. B. G. Blakowsky, treasurer; and Mrs. D. A. Matteson, assistant treasurer. Directors at large are Mrs. F. J. Leonard, Mrs. W. D. Schlafer, Mrs. C. A. Green, Mrs. W. F. Kelm and Mrs. W. R. Challenor. These directors, together with the officers and the following department chairmen, comprise the club board:

Mrs. J. Bon Davis and Mrs. E. W. Nelson, American homes; Mrs. M. L. Reese and Mrs. M. L. Allen, community service; Mrs. E. W. Conroy and Mrs. G. H. Buesing, education; Mrs. Henry Brown and Mrs. Agnes Dean, fine arts; Mrs. E. K. Nielsen and Mrs. H. O. Younger, health.

Dance Planned In Celebration Of Yom Kippur

A YOM Kippur dance Sept. 23 at Castle Hall and a Sunday night supper and card party Sept. 30 will be sponsored.

The Yom Kippur dance, which is the first of the Montefiore Ladies' Aid society, arrangements for the two events were discussed at the society's first fall meeting Wednesday afternoon at the social center. The meeting was held in the form of an open house and was attended by 34 members and guests.

The program was presented by Rabbi Ralph De Koven, who spoke on "Fascism versus Democracy." Arrangements for the Yom Kippur dance will be directed by Mrs. Edward Nadel, president of the society and activities chairman for September. The committee for the dance is composed of Mrs. Hannah Chudakoff, Mrs. Abe Hamilton, Mrs. Stanley Hamilton and Mrs. Abe Stagner.

A new director, John Bayer, will take over his duties when the choir of St. John's Episcopal church, which has been singing at the church rehearsal, will continue weekly thereafter.

Zion Mission society had a picnic Wednesday afternoon at Erb park. Prizes at the games which were played went to Mrs. Fred Hoffman, Mrs. Dallas Jansen, Mrs. Ferdinand Arnold, Mrs. John Stecker, Mrs. Herman Kasten and Mrs. Arthur Luedtke.

The Women's Moral Missionary society of the Wisconsin conference of the Methodist church will observe its fifty-first anniversary when it convenes here for its annual conference Sept. 12 and 13. The conference will open at 1:15 Tuesday afternoon and continue with sessions at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning and 1:15 Wednesday afternoon. A banquet honoring members of the past is scheduled for 5:45 Tuesday night and a pageant under the direction of Mrs. C. Culver for 7:30 the same evening.

Women's auxiliary of All Saints Episcopal church will have a luncheon meeting Tuesday at Oneida. Gifts of canned goods will be taken to the Indians on the reservation. Those who plan to attend have been asked to call Mrs. C. E. Hockings, president, or Mrs. Fred Poppe, secretary, of the auxiliary.

Back-to-School Dance

Attracts 175 Young People to Riverview

College pennants and banners decorated Riverview Country club Wednesday night as 175 young people gathered there for a "back-to-school" dance. It was the club's last junior dance of the season.

Among the out-of-town guests Miss Betty Boon, Minneapolis; Miss Rebecca Sturtevant, Fond du Lac; and Robert Ruhlberg, Chicago. Miss Sturtevant came as the guest of Midshipman Kirt Wolter, who is home from the United States Naval academy at Annapolis for a short holiday.

Miss Lois Boon was general chairman of the dance. Miss Jeanne Ruhlberg headed the decorations.

Panathenaea Club Hears Description Of Greek Pavilion

A description of the Greek pavilion at the New York World's fair, which she visited during a recent trip to New York and the New England states, was given by Mrs. George Katsoulas at the meeting of the Panathenaea club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Al Kopulos, N. Appleton street.

In addition to displaying some of its ancient treasures, Greece has attempted in its pavilion to illustrate how the progress of its country has continued through the ages. Mrs. Katsoulas said. The ancient is interwoven with the modern, not only in its architecture but also in its people, she pointed out.

She was particularly impressed by the variety of modern silverware, plates, vases and intricately designed thin glass jars, the large number of products, ranging from marbles of more than 30 varieties to modern children's clothes and ladies' wear which showed the influence of Paris; and rich Oriental rugs. The Greeks, she said, have kept their individualism in art through the ages, if they have retained little else. The pavilion, she explained, had not been commercialized and was open free of charge to all fair-goers.

A social hour followed the program. Mrs. Andrew Jmos winning the game which was played. The club's next meeting will take place the last part of this month at the home of Mrs. Alex Kalitsas, Neenah.

Grandson of Appleton Pioneer Directs New Glarus Productions

OLD-TIMERS who knew his father and grandfather, as well as younger residents who knew him during his boyhood here are interested in Edwin Barlow's success with his "Wilhelm Tell" productions at New Glarus, Wis. The second annual performances were given Sunday and Monday in a rugged amphitheater east of the Swiss community and attracted thousands of spectators.

Barlow was the only child of the late Warren Barlow and is a nephew of Mrs. David Gurnee, 207 N. Appleton street. He is a grandson of one of Appleton's first pioneers, Edwin Barlow, who came here in 1849 and built the first store on College avenue.

The younger Edwin Barlow, who is his grandfather's namesake, returned to Wisconsin from New York two years ago to build New Glarus' showplace, an authentic Swiss chalet, and to start the "Wilhelm Tell" productions. He is especially interested in the community because he is a direct descendant on his mother's side of Fridolin Streiff, one of the founders of New Glarus who came to America to find a suitable locality for the famine-poor people of their native canton of Glarus in Switzerland.

Miss Irene Van Rytte, who will become the bride of Robert Lamers Sept. 19, was honored at a kitchen shower given last night by her mother, Mrs. William Van Rytte, route 3, Appleton. Dice and schafkopf were played, prizes at the former going to Mrs. Ed Kaphingst, Mrs. Nick Kroiss and Mrs. John H. Verhagen, and at schafkopf to Mrs. John Verhagen, Mrs. John Hietpas and Mrs. Ted Natrop.

Miss Marie Huffman, Clintonville, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening given by Mrs. Edgar Voelt at her home on Ninth street, Clintonville. The affair was in the form of a dessert-bridge, there being three tables in play. Honors at cards went to Miss Ruth Schultz and Miss Marguerite Hintz. Gifts were presented to Miss Huffman, whose marriage to Glen Dille of Clintonville will take place Sept. 23.

Mrs. Arthur Borsche, 1135 W. College avenue, entertained at a kitchen shower last night in honor of Mrs. Robert Krueger, who was Miss Phyllis Van Dyke before her marriage Aug. 26 at Dubuque, Iowa. Prizes at court whist were won by Miss Viola Burt and Mrs. Krueger.

Contract Club Meets At Marion Dwelling

Marion—Mr. and Mrs. Sherburne Driessen and daughter, Constance of Milwaukee, are visiting at the J. H. Driessen home this week.

Mrs. Mary Werner of Oklahoma City, Okla., arrived here this week for an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Louise Dedolph.

Mrs. Clara Gruenewald accompanied her daughter, Myra, and Annette Fox to Whitewater Wednesday, where the girls have enrolled in the Teachers college.

Mrs. Clara Michaelis was hostess Tuesday evening to the contract club. Honors at bridge were awarded to Mrs. Jim Spiegel and Mrs. Will Borchardt. Mrs. Joe Driessen received the floating prize.

I.O.O.F. Will Sponsor Card Party, Dance

APPLETON Odd Fellow lodge will sponsor a public card party and dance Sept. 15 at Odd Fellow hall. The card games will begin at 8 o'clock and the dancing at 9. An entertainment committee consisting of Maynard Fields, chairman, Walter Nissen and William Damerow is in charge of arrangements for the party.

Deborah Rebekah lodge had its annual memorial service for members who died during the last year when it opened its fall activities with a meeting Wednesday night at Odd Fellow hall. A report on the district meeting held this week at Sturgeon Bay was given, and plans were made for the celebration of the eighty-eighth birthday anniversary of the Rebekah lodge Sept. 20. Mrs. Orville Perrine, noble grand, appointed Mrs. Oscar Bruss chairman of the committee in charge of the celebration.

Arrangements also were made to begin the lodge's series of open card parties at 2 o'clock next Monday at Odd Fellow hall. The party will be held at Odd Fellow hall and bridge and schafkopf will be played. Announcement was made of a district visitors' night Sept. 15 at Menasha.

Ladies' auxiliary of Eagles entertained at a visiting day card party Wednesday afternoon at Eagles hall, with 10 tables in play. Prizes were won by Mrs. Emma Bethe and Mrs. Matt McGinnis at schafkopf; by Mrs. Frank Fiske and Mrs. Frank Huntz at bridge; and by Mrs. G. Hamilton and Mrs. Frank Preuss at dice.

Mrs. Carl Smith, president, entertained with pictures of the south and a report on the carpenters' home at Lakeland, Fla., at the meeting of Carpenters auxiliary. No. 293, last night at the home of Mrs. William Retz, W. Elsie street. Mrs. Smith also spoke about the Pulitzer prize winning novel, "The Yearling," by Marjorie Rawlings, much of the material for which the author received from Barney Dillard, a friend of the Smiths. Mrs. Smith, who will return next week to the south, was presented with a basket of jellies. Officers will be elected by the auxiliary at a meeting Oct. 4 at Mrs. Robert Velle's home, Grand Chute.

Knights of Columbus State Officers Will Meet at Retreat House

The Monte Alverno Retreat house, near Appleton, will be the scene of one of the fall conferences of officers and committee chairmen of the Knights of Columbus state council. William T. Sullivan, Kaukauna, state deputy of the organization, announced Wednesday. The Appleton conference will be held Oct. 22. Earlier meetings are scheduled for Sept. 24 at Ashland and Oct. 1 at Madison.

Among the committee chairmen announced by Sullivan at the same time was Vincent Reinkeber, Chilton, who will head the insurance committee.

Others named by the state deputy are as follows: Catholic interest, August Reisweber, Milwaukee; Columbia Squires, J. E. Helfert, Beaver Dam; retreat, Charles F. Millman, Milwaukee; publicity, Otto Lund, Eau Claire; big brother, Thomas F. Keegan, LaCrosse; fraternal, Thomas E. King, Oconomowoc; program, B. A. Kennedy, Prairie du Chien; and membership, Timothy T. Cronin, Oconomowoc.

Words of praise here for Williams Formula

Amazing Reports of Relief With Williams Formula Create Sensation Here.

Men and women from far and near are flocking daily to their druggist to get Williams Formula, the famous medicine which is attracting widespread attention. People suffering from acid indigestion, stomach gas, sick headaches, nervousness, dizziness, "half alive" feeling because of excess acidity and lazy elimination declare they can hardly believe the remarkable relief they have experienced from taking Williams Formula. Floods of letters have been pouring in from grateful users, praising this remarkable medicine.

Typical of these letters is the statement of Mr. Fred C. Freiberg, 254 N. Main St., a resident of Fond du Lac, Wis., for 32 years, who says:

"I have been subject to attacks of gaseous indigestion. Many of the foods I would eat would just stay on my stomach and turn sour. A short time ago, I started using Williams Formula, and I am thankful to say that Williams Formula has helped relieve my gas pains through its stimulant action on my bowels."

Schommer Services Held at Little Chute

Little Chute — Funeral services for Lorenzo Schommer, 19, who died Saturday evening at Madison after an illness of one year were conducted at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. John church, Little Chute, by the Very Rev. John J. Sprangers. Burial took place in St. Nicholas cemetery, Freedom. Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Anna Wirth, two brothers, Orville Schommer and John Wirth, and two sisters, Betty Jane Schommer and Joan Wirth, the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sanderfoot, Little Chute and a great grandmother, Mrs. Anna Van Hammond of Little Chute. The decedent was born at Freedom and lived there until eight years ago when the family moved to Isaar.

Round Out Plans For Council Meet

County Auxiliary to Hold Session Wednesday At Little Chute

Little Chute—Arrangements have been completed for the county council meeting and dinner of the American Legion auxiliary which will be held at the Hammen hotel Wednesday evening, Sept. 13. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Willard Versteeg before Sept. 9. The committee in charge of the affair consists of Mrs. Willard Versteeg, chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Look, Mrs. Clara Lenz and Mrs. John J. Hammen. It is expected 100 persons will attend the affair.

A son was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vanden Heuvel at St. Elizabeth hospital. Mrs. Vanden Heuvel formerly was Miss Theresa Verkuilen, daughter of Mrs. George Verkuilen of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Brantmeier and daughters, Joyce and Audrey, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLaughlin of Milwaukee were guests Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith.

Richard De Bruin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank De Bruin, Wilson street, left Wednesday for Madison where he will attend the state university.

Mr. and Mrs. George Friebe and sons, Eugene, Merlyn and Lyle, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Van Asten and sons, Gordon and Jerome, and daughters, Donna Mae and Lavonne, Miss Eileen Vanden Heuvel, Miss Marcella Baumgart and Miss Ida Mae Friebe returned Monday from Post Lake where they enjoyed camping for a week. While there they had as guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartjes, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Van Asten and daughters, Shirley and Audrey of this village and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Romenesko of Kaukauna.

Miss Edythe Adamson of Fond du Lac is a guest this week at the home of Dr. Mrs. C. J. Ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Van Hoot and sons, Gerard, Urban and Francis, have returned from a week's trip to Yellowstone park.

Mrs. Henry Lucassen, Misses Eleanor Lucassen and Mrs. Anna Hammen returned Tuesday from a ten days motor trip through the eastern states. They visited at Washington, D. C., Atlantic City and the fair at New York.

ner on a national basis, and all information must be carefully sifted out and correlated in order to avoid confusion and irresponsibility.

"To this end I request all police officers, sheriffs, and all other law enforcement officers in the United States promptly to turn over to the nearest representative of the F.B.I. any information obtained by them relating to espionage, sabotage, subversive activities and violations of the neutrality laws."

Military Rule

The Panama Canal Zone, meanwhile, was placed under military rule, a step taken previously only during the World war. Mr. Roosevelt placed Major General David L. Stone, commander of the army forces there, in charge of both civil and military administrations. He will supersede Brigadier-General Clarence C. Ridley, the civil governor.

Secretary Woodring said the order followed long-standing plans for security of the canal during times of international tension. The new coast patrol, to be augmented as fast as decommissioned destroyers can be repaired and manned, will extend several hundred miles out to sea and eventually will cover the shore line from new England to the Caribbean and Panama canal. Airplanes also will be utilized.

The patrol will furnish the government information on the presence of belligerent craft in waters adjacent to the United States so that shipping in the vicinity may be warned. Embassies of the belligerents will be informed that neutral ships are in the area where their fighting ships may be operating.

May Extend Embargo

With President Roosevelt planning to leave tomorrow for a weekend trip to his home at Hyde Park, state department officials expected him to extend the arms embargo soon to the Union of South Africa. The union's minister here, Ralph W. Close, advised the department late yesterday his country had joined Great Britain in war against Germany.

Other developments yesterday: The treasury announced that Basil Harris, veteran shipping expert, had been given the joint title of commissioner of customs and assistant secretary. One official said he will be "the key man in taking care of shipping angles of neutrality from an advisory and administrative standpoint."

Secretary Wallace told a press conference American consumers could not claim farmers were getting too much from the rise in commodity prices since the war began. Such prices, he said, were still below the so-called "parity" or "fair price" goal sought for producers.

County highway workmen are drilling about a hundred and fifty holes in ten blocks of concrete between the Soo line rail road tracks and the Potter bridge, in an effort by the use of hydraulic mud jacks, to raise the blocks about two inches by forcing mud under them.

Mrs. William Levknecht, route 2, Hilbert, was seriously injured over the weekend when she fell through a trap door in the upper floor of the granary. Her collar bone was fractured, several ribs were broken and an arm was badly crushed. It is feared she may be injured internally.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stannell of Cleveland, Ohio arrived here Tuesday for a weeks vacation here with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Geyso and at Forest Junction.

The Hilbert public school board held its first meeting of this school year Wednesday evening at the schoolhouse. Routine business was transacted and bills were allowed.

City Council Votes to Buy Motor and Pump at Waupaca

Waupaca—The city council Tuesday evening recommended the purchase of a motor and pump to be installed at once at the pumping station. Giving trouble for some time, the gasoline engine at the station proved it was not dependable when the storm struck the city Sunday evening, and for hours was out of commission. Had a fire occurred there would not have been water to fight a blaze. The motor is being purchased at a cost of $430 and the pump at $313.

City Relief bills for the city for the last month were reported at $676.78 while transient relief amounted to $145.12.

C. S. Peterson, assistant construction engineer of the state highway division office at Wisconsin Rapids, was present to submit to the council the project that is to be begun shortly for drainage, grading and construction of a highway railway grade separation.

Willard street, a new street to be opened for the benefit of persons living on the other side of the Soo Line overhead that will be dispensed with, will connect Wesley street and the old Highway 49. It will be necessary to start condemnation proceedings for right of way for Willard street, the owner of the land having refused $500, a price set by the board of public works. City Attorney Edward Hart was authorized to arrange for the right-of-way.

A letter from E. E. Browne, former congressman, suggesting the council pass an ordinance for a wild game refuge within the city was discussed briefly but was considered unnecessary for the reason that an ordinance prohibiting the discharge of firearms within the city already is in effect.

Board Sets Same Tax Rate to Run Vocational School

Levy of 1.1 Mills on Appleton Assessed Valuation Is Voted

A tax rate of 1.1 mills on the assessed valuation of the city of Appleton to cover the city's share of the Appleton Vocational school operation costs for the fiscal year, was voted at a meeting of the vocational school board Wednesday.

The rate is the same as last year but is expected to bring an amount slightly less because of an anticipated reduction in the total assessed valuation of the city, according to Herb Heilig, director of the school.

It is possible for the vocational school board to fix a mandatory tax of 1.5 mills under the state law. The city's share of vocational school expenses last year was $52,455. State aids totaled $9,100 and aids from the federal government $7,500.

The board authorized the purchase of about $3,000 worth of new equipment, the major part for the electrical department. Equipment will be purchased also for the machine shop, the auto service shop, the printing shop and the home-making department. Carlton Sackner, adviser on equipment, gave the report.

Reports on Repairs

Richard Mahoney, adviser on building and grounds reported on repairs made to the building. The walls were washed, a gas heater for heating water was replaced, the kitchen floor was sanded, the roof was repaired and a parking area for bicycles was established.

A flood light will be installed on the parking lot to protect cars parked there, a pipe frame bicycle rack will be constructed and new lockers will be installed.

A study will be made by the adviser on building and grounds, the board decided, in anticipation of revamping the lighting system in the school.

Heilig gave a report to the board on the status of state legislation affecting the operation of vocational schools.

Military Training Issue Causes Hot Debate at Hearing

Senators and Clergymen Exchange Heated Words On Proposed Course

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—A roomful of ministers, teachers, peace workers, and young men who styled themselves "war babies," and a group of elderly and middle-aged senators yesterday afternoon furnished the most furious debate of the whole legislative session on a question which took on special interest as war rumbled over the European continent, military training.

The issue was a bill by Senator Kenneth S. White of River Falls, a Republican and a member of the national guard of Wisconsin, which proposes to establish universal military training for all freshman and sophomore male students at the University of Wisconsin. The same proposal has been defeated in several previous legislatures.

Opposed to Training

The Rev. L. B. Moseley of the Madison First Baptist church, argued that every major denominational church is opposed to forced military training, and argued for justice as a means of settling the issues which cause wars.

Senator Harry W. Bolens, Port Washington, interrupted to ask if the despot's foot was on our shore, if there was assault and rape over there, would you fight? Would you jab a bayonet into his guts?

Moseley attempted to reply, to carry out his point of peaceful solutions of international problems, but Bolens insisted: "Would you fight? Would you fight?"

When Moseley replied that he would not go to war to kill other men, Bolens yelled, hands thrown into the air: "My God, a minister who wouldn't defend his own womenfolk!"

"This bill is an attempt to instill into young minds the idea that the only method of defense is brute force. I do not believe in that," said the clergyman.

Bolens asked whether Moseley had even been in military service. The minister replied that he had not, but that "my brother fought to preserve democracy in the last war." He also introduced a Baptist ministerial colleague, Rev. George Collins of Madison, who said that he had seen machine gun service with the A. E. F. in France.

"Would Lower Morale"

The Rev. Mr. Collins argued that compulsory military training would probably defeat the purpose of its sponsors because it would lower the morale of the military enrollees at the state school. Unwilling members of the student military corps won't be efficient members, he warned. He added that he would like to have all university students go to church, but that he would oppose any effort to force all students to do so.

The Rev. Alfred W. Swan, Madison Congregational pastor, asserted that the tendency displayed in the White bill "pushes us toward war."

"I should like to have the liberty of the University of Wisconsin preserved by keeping the voluntary instead of the compulsory aspects of military training."

Only two proponents of the White bill appeared, including the author who maintained that young men who come to Madison to be educated at the expense of the taxpayers should have no objection to training which will equip them for defense of the nation. He said that the public welfare requires a reserve of trained military leaders to take charge of the national defense in times of emergency. There are far too few regular army officers, he argued. He said his bill would not effect compulsory training at the university because a student does not have to come to the university unless he desires to do so.

COUNCILMEN HOLD FIRST MEETING IN CHAMBERS IN NEW CITY HALL

The city council held its first meeting in the luxurious chambers in Appleton's new city hall last night. The picture above shows the council and part of the room just after the meeting opened. In the foreground with their backs to the camera are E. L. Bisset, Appleton Post-Crescent reporter and Alfred Wickesberg, city engineer, who are seated just in front of Mayor Goodland's desk. Left to right in the first row of councilmen are Aldermen Keller, Wichman, Vanderheyden, Delain, Franke, Rehfeldt, Doerflinger, Thompson and Feavel. Reading in the same direction in the second row are Aldermen Grignon, Lutz, Knuijt, Brautigam, Falatick, Weinlauf, Bogan and McGillan. The camera did not include Alderman Captain. In the background, just behind Alderman Lutz is George T. Prim, chief of police, who attends all of the meetings. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Harrison L. Garner, Madison Legion leader, said that the sixth corps area, including Michigan, Illinois, and Wisconsin, is now getting most of its officers from the former schools because of the small enrollment at the Wisconsin military school under the voluntary system. "Unpreparedness is not a guarantee of national safety," he warned.

Several speakers argued hotly with the senators, and one clergyman, E. M. Sheldon of the Wisconsin Peace conference, told the legislators bluntly that "you wouldn't dare legislate this for all the manhood of the state."

A Negro, Hilton Hanna of the Wisconsin federation of Teachers, declared the bill to be "coercive and undemocratic."

Grocery Stores Having Minor 'Run' on Sugar, Flour, Lard As Demand Increases Prices

Appleton grocery stores have experienced a minor "run" on those "war babies," sugar, flour and lard during the last two days, and the grocers report that the heavy demand is boosting prices.

Dealers said that price rises have been caused by the housewives in their sudden rush to buy more than normal requirements because of the fear of price increases, and were of the belief that the situation is a temporary one and that there will be a lull when housewives get stocked up.

In the last two days the price of sugar has climbed about $1 per 100 pounds, flour about $1.12 per barrel and lard about 4¢ cents per pound. Sugar was selling in a number of places for 7¢ cents per pound today as against 5¢ cents several days ago.

Dealers are finding their stocks being depleted as buyers purchase flour and sugar in 100-pound lots. Several dealers report they are having difficulty in getting orders for additional supplies filled. This is not because of a shortage, they explained, but a result of heavy buying.

Rushed With Orders

One Appleton wholesaler stated that his firm cannot fill orders piling in from the retail stores. A grocer stated that he placed a large order for sugar with a Chicago firm and that he can turn back the order to the company at a profit of $1.50 on each hundred pounds without even seeing the sugar.

An Appleton shopper said that on Tuesday she attempted to purchase 25 pounds of sugar and was unable to get it. She paid for the order and the next day found that paying the day previous saved her 13 cents on the order. The store still was short on sugar and she was forced to get her supply in 5 and 10 pound sacks.

Dealers said there is nothing in the immediate picture generally to warrant any big increases in the prices of staple goods. There is plenty of food in the country, and more, they said.

Other Prices Raise

Prices of some other commodities have also raised, but not to the extent of those of sugar, flour and lard. A dealer said that a shipment of peaches from California today cost him 50 cents more on a dozen cans than it would have yesterday.

Increases also are reported on imported goods and the reason advanced by one local dealer was because of a jump in insurance rates caused by the European war.

Many Milwaukee grocers resorted to rationing of sugar, five pounds to a customer, as the retail price advanced another cent today on a heavy consumer demand, the Associated Press reports.

Milwaukee wholesalers said their supplies of sugar were exhausted and predicted retailers, at the present rate of purchasing, also would be out of sugar by the end of the week.

The retail price, which jumped from 5 to 6 cents a pound yesterday, reached 7 cents today.

Some grocers reported increases allies with the materials for successful warfare.

The royal air force, before the war started, began to prepare for cooperation with the French through reciprocal practice "raids" which also gave the extensive anti-aircraft organization defensive experience.

British planes already have joined French aircraft in battering German munitions plants north of the Saar valley and longer hops across Germany to help the Poles on the eastern front were expected as operations expanded.

The British government last night announced consolidation into a unified army force of its regular army, territorial army, conscripted militia and auxiliary units. Manpower was assured through a law providing for conscription of men from 18 to 41.

The British navy has clamped down a blockade against German shipping and the royal air force has been bombing Germany's warships. The government announced the sinking of a number of German merchantmen, and attacks on submarines.

Economic Warfare

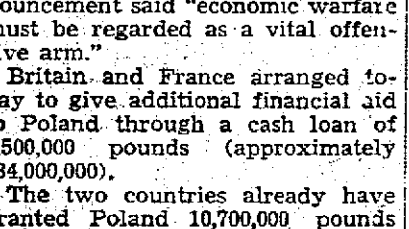

The ministry of information hinted today at larger operations than actually disclosed in a communique asserting that simply because "no news is published it must not be assumed that no successes have been achieved."

On the heels of three propaganda raids in which British planes distributed millions of leaflets over Germany condemning the Nazi regime and urging the people to "get rid of Hitler," Britain's new ministry of economic warfare disclosed it immediately would begin operations similar to those of the World War ministry of blockade. The announcement said "economic warfare must be regarded as a vital offensive arm."

Britain and France arranged today to give additional financial aid to Poland through a cash loan of $500,000 pounds (approximately $94,000,000).

The two countries already have granted Poland 10,700,000 pounds credit.

Aldermen Settle Village, District Utility Questions

will have to build an addition to its water plant to take care of the load. Alderman Keller said he understood that when the village installed its new sewerage system, the city had promised water service.

"If the city promised, the city should give it to them. I don't believe in breaking treaties," he said. Alderman Grignon wanted to know if the city could be forced to give water service to the village and Harry P. Hoefel, city attorney, answered that the state board of health may force the issue but it never has been done in Wisconsin.

"The city has a property right in its water utility and could not be forced to furnish water to outside communities if it could be shown the plant was inadequate to handle the increased load," Hoefel indicated.

Thompson Likes Idea

"It would be wise to take on additional customers," Alderman Thompson argued. "I'm wondering if there isn't something personal in refusing. The commission said it will have to enlarge the plant anyway."

Aldermen Bogan, Vanderheyden and Doerflinger favored supplying the village with water but Alderman Knuijt, chairman of the committee, stuck to his guns.

"If you give service to one eventually you will have to give it to others," he maintained. "Possibly the Buchholz district will want water and our water mains are not large enough in that direction. It will mean an increased fire hazard and resulting increase in fire insurance rates, that's certain."

Alderman Feavel suggested the village could build a community well and get water that way.

Bit Mixed Up

Alderman Knuijt told the council the commission is a bit inconsistent in granting water service to property owners abutting the city mains and then refusing it to the village. However, he withdrew his statement after the mayor explained that the practice of giving water in those cases was ordered by the city council.

"Then we're inconsistent, maybe we should give it to them," Alderman Franke conceded.

Alderman Brautigam moved to refer the problem back to the committee where it has been two or three times before but the motion was killed, 12 to 6. The water committee report was defeated, 10 to 8, and on the motion to grant water service to the village, the vote was 13 to 5. Aldermen Brautigam, Feavel, Knuijt, McGillan and Rehfeldt voted against the motion.

Rate Fight Ended

Sewerage service to the Buchholz Sanitary district, town of Harrison, was voted unanimously ending a fight over rates which started last spring. The mayor and city clerk were authorized to enter into contract with the district. A former council action denying service to outlying districts as it concerned the Buchholz district was rescinded.

The application of Jacob Golper, 1319 N. Clark street, and Louis Simon, Alvin and Brewster streets, to operate junk yards in the residential districts were denied, 13 to 4.

But not until after a long and weary argument during which the mayor said the same thing they have been saying since the issue hit the council floor back in July and it is said, each year for 12 years before that.

Deny Applications

Mayor Goodland finally brought the issue to a head with a reprimand telling the council to either grant the licenses or reject them but "to quit arguing about it." So they denied the applications.

The resolution, introduced by Alderman Thompson read in effect to deny the licenses because they are in violation of a city ordinance, the junk yards are unsightly and depreciate nearby property, because of the unsanitary condition and the plague of rats running around the neighborhood, because of the disagreeable odors and the noise, and because of the many objections against the yards.

After a good natured committee of the whole session, the council voted to offer August Klinko $50 in full settlement of an action brought against the city, Fred Felix Wetzel and Gene Harris, assistant street commissioner, because the city installed a sewer across 50 feet of his land without his permission. The sewer was built from Klinko's property line on the extension of S. Douglas street to the interceptor sewer along the river.

The petition of the International Business Machines corporation, New York, for a refund on their personal property tax, paid under protest, was granted in the sum of $219.40. The firm owns office equipment in various Appleton business places.

A claim of $7,000 against the city filed by Frank Wheeler in behalf of the heirs of the late Edith C. Fairbanks, who died here in 1934, was denied. The fund, originally totaling about $10,500, was left to the city to erect a home where old folks could live at a reasonable rate. Wheeler claims the city has not built the home nor has it used the money for the purpose intended.

Mayor Goodland suggested and then referred to the water committee a proposal to connect the light and power meters of city buildings located near each other to save money on power costs. A report will be heard at the next council session.

Flooded conditions in the basement of the Krick Fur store on College avenue after the recent heavy rain was brought to the attention of the council which authorized the engineer to include correction of the nuisance in his plan to build storm sewers over a period of two years.

The council instructed the building inspector and the plumbing inspector to enforce the city ruling which prohibits connecting roof drains to sanitary sewers. The move was taken to relieve the heavy flow of water in sanitary sewers causing them to back up into basements during the heavy rains.

The Walter Brothers Brewing company was given a wholesale beer license and Gerhart Marx, T. M. Stulp and Marcus Groth were granted licenses to tend bar in the city.

Repair Transformer

The council authorized the expenditure of $200 to repair an ornamental lighting system transformer damaged by lightning last Sunday evening.

The installation of street lights at the intersection of Grant street and Howe street, Rogers avenue between Madison and Harrison streets, and on Harrison street between Roosevelt street and Brewster street was authorized by aldermen.

An ordinance prohibiting all night parking on the parkway between the street and the sidewalk on Appleton streets was adopted and ordered published. Another ordinance fixing the class B liquor li-

150 Republicans Launch Move for Vandenberg Boom

Pledged Delegate Candidates to be Named at Fond du Lac Meeting

Milwaukee—(P)—Invitations to participate at Fond du Lac Sept. 23 in the selection of delegate candidates pledged to support Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, for the Republican nomination for president in 1940 were issued to Wisconsin Republicans today.

Plans for the meeting were announced by Laurence Hall, of Madison, chairman of a "Vandenberg for President Club of Wisconsin" organized by about 150 persons here last night. Other club officers are Roy L. Breche, of Milwaukee, secretary, and William J. Campbell, of Oshkosh, treasurer.

C. C. Nelson and W. H. Zuehlke, Appleton Republicans, participated in the Milwaukee meeting last night.

The decision to hold the Fond du Lac meeting came after Campbell, temporary chairman, appointed Breche, William Knaut, of Chilton, Dudley Davis, of Madison, and Mrs. Anna Monahan Wendt, of Wausau, on a committee to nominate a slate of candidates for delegates at-large.

Ask Delayed Action

M. J. Eberlein, of Shawano, objected to immediate selection, declaring "the gathering here tonight may not be interpreted as representative and there are many factions in the state." He urged a preliminary complimentary vote for Senator Alexander Wiley, of Chippewa Falls, before "going down the line" for Vandenberg.

Miss Florence Scherbarth, of Milwaukee, committeewoman for a group of Young Republicans, some of whom have recommended district. Attorney Thomas Dewey, of New York, as a presidential candidate, also counseled against immediate action.

The committee's report was accepted. It recommended 10 persons possible delegate candidates. They are Goodland; Campbell, Eberlein; Governor Heil; former Governor Walter J. Kohler; Attorney Roland J. Steinle, of Milwaukee; Assemblyman Reuben Peterson, of Berlin; Senator Kenneth S. White, of River Falls; William Gharriy, of Chippewa Falls, and Charles F. Smith, of Wausau.

Other candidates, Hall said, may be suggested at the Fond du

WILL BE CANDIDATES

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Assemblymen Julius Spearbreaker of Clintonville, and Anthony Gruszka of Mosinee, both serving their first terms in the state legislature, announced last night that they will be candidates as delegates to the 1940 Republican national convention.

They said that they would be pledged to the nomination of Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan for the presidency.

They will run in the Seventh congressional district, consisting of the counties in central Wisconsin, including Shawano and Waupaca.

cense fee at $75 for clubs also was adopted.

The city attorney was ordered to start the "necessary legal action" against property owners living in the Glendale, plat north of Erb park where the overflow from septic tanks flows into the city at Alce street in an open ditch.

The council authorized the street department to extend Summer street at Lindwood avenue.

Preliminary plans for the construction of storm sewers over a period of two years to relieve the flood conditions in various areas in the city after heavy storms were approved and officials were authorized to apply to WPA for a project covering the work. The project is to be set up so that trenching and power machines may be used in the work.

Oscar J. Schmiede was reappointed to the Appleton water commission for a term of five years.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's child way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with burning and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They are happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Bowling Activities Swing to North Side As Alleys are Moved

New London — Prah's South Side bowling alleys were moved this week to center all bowling activities at the North Side location. The former South Side alleys have been installed on the ground floor at 308 North Water street and another alley will be added to the original three to provide a set of eight alleys year.

The alleys are being resurfaced and refinished, and improvements in the store include installation of lockers, rest rooms and toilet facilities.

The alleys are expected to be ready for use by the weekend and a meeting of the City Bowling association will be called soon to line up the season's schedule. A meeting of the Waupaca County Classic league will be held at the Elwood hotel at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening to organize for loop competition. The circuit is expected to expand to eight teams this year with Seymour as the newcomer and three teams tentatively promised by Waupaca. New London will furnish two and Marion and Clintonville each one. Ed Bednarski, Clintonville, is president and E. F. Buelow, New London, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Marie Buss Dies At Residence of Son

Marion — Mrs. Marie Buss died Tuesday, Sept. 5, at the home of her son Paul, after an illness of five days.

Mayor, Alderman Clash Over Police Board Selection

Disagree on Appointment Without Council Confirmation

Neenah — A brief altercation between Mayor Edwin A. Kalfas and Alderman John Heigl as to the mayor's appointment of a police and fire commissioner without council confirmation flared to spark an other wise dull meeting of the council at city hall last night.

Mayor Kalfas informed the aldermen that his appointment of a commissioner was made without council confirmation on the advice of City Attorney John W. O'Leary that council confirmation isn't necessary according to the state statutes.

Alderman Heigl said that according to a ruling by a court in 1930, council confirmation was necessary for such appointments. The city attorney said that he wasn't acquainted with that ruling and that he rendered his opinion on the basis of the existing law.

The mayor recently reappointed Frank Klinka to the commission without council confirmation. At that time, he announced that according to the statutes, confirmation wasn't necessary.

The controversy between the council and Neenah's insurance board over the transfer from the board to the Employers Mutual, Wisconsin, of the city workmen's compensation insurance policy was settled at the meeting when the council voted down a motion, entered at the request of the board, to reconsider its action on the transfer.

The request for the motion was made on behalf of the board by Carl Gerhardt.

Boulevard Stays
Another controversy, the Nicolet boulevard matter, also was settled at the meeting when the council decided not to remove Neenah's half of the center section. Upon the recommendation of Carl Loechnig, chairman of the street committee, the council voted, however, to remove the remaining half of the circle opposite Second street, and the street department was instructed to do the work.

Alderman James Andersen objected to the fact that when Menasha removed its half of the center section, a curb wasn't installed. He said the banked sod wouldn't last if cars drove on it. The council, however, took no action.

A resolution for the installation of sidewalks on the east side of E. Columbus street from Elm to Oak streets was adopted. A new grade will be established. Petitions for installation of sidewalks on both sides of Grove street from Division street to Lauden boulevard and on Van street from Monroe to Adams streets were presented and referred to the street committee. Petitions for installation of street lights on Stevens street and Congress place and on E. Doty avenue and Stevens streets also were presented and referred to the utility committee. A petition for a catch basin on the northeast corner of Grove and Division streets was referred to the public improvements committee.

A communication was read by City Clerk H. S. Zemlock from Soo Line officials opposing the opening of Jackson street across the Soo line tracks. The communication pointed out that the street would have to cross eight tracks, causing a hazard. The communication also said that it is doubtful that the public service commission would permit it in view of the fact that Winnebago avenue is only a block away and is used for traffic.

Will Delay Action
The council agreed not to press the matter at the present time when it was pointed out that the company would have to move its tracks, involving an expenditure of more than $30,000.

The communication further stressed that the expenditure was more than the company could stand and that moving of the tracks would cause delay in switching operations for Neenah industries.

Mayor Kalfas and Alderman Andersen pointed out that the likelihood that the Soo Line will shift its operations to North Fond du Lac is to be considered, for such a movement would draw from Neenah considerable revenue in rent, toll and other expenses, and it is possible the company may be forced to do this to prevent excess expenditures.

The council decided to investigate the opening of Lauden boulevard from Reed street to S. Park avenue.

Accept Bids
Resolutions accepting the low bids for landscaping and miscellaneous work were adopted.

The Twin Cities office of the Appleton Post-Crescent for its editorial, circulation and display advertising departments is located at 510 N. Commercial street, and the telephone number is 4100. News items, copy or orders for display advertising and orders for subscriptions may be left at the office or telephoned. Orders for classified advertising should be placed by telephoning 543 in Appleton, and the cost of the telephone call will be rebated. The Twin Cities office closes at 7 o'clock in the evening.

GERMANS PUSH OVER WATER IN DRIVE ON POLAND

"Somewhere in Poland" these German soldiers took to boats to cross this unidentified river in their drive through Poland, which had Warsaw as a major objective. The Polish government was reported to have fled the capital. This photo was radiated from Berlin to New York.

Old Curfew Law Wouldn't Work Because of Parents, G-Man Says

Neenah — The old town curfew law wouldn't work today or any time in keeping youngsters off the streets, declared Bernard Fitzsimmons, special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation in charge of the Milwaukee district, in a talk at the noon meeting of the Neenah Kiwanis club Wednesday at the Valley Inn.

The curfew wouldn't work today, not because of the young people, but because when they went home, they wouldn't find their parents there, the G-man said in his address on youth in crime. Their parents, he said, would be frequenting "what I choose to call dives."

The curfew or any other laws won't work unless they receive the support of the good citizens and unless parents think less of themselves and more of their children's welfare, the G-man emphasized.

Serious Problem
"Youth in crime is a serious problem and it demands your most honest consideration," the special agent said. He pointed out that 48 per cent of the crimes in the United States are committed by people under 21.

The curfew or any other laws won't work unless they receive the support of the good citizens and unless parents think less of themselves and more of their children's welfare, the G-man emphasized.

DeMolay Chapter Elects Directors
Charles Brein, Herb Hartung and Bob Mead named at meeting.

Neenah — Three directors for the ensuing term were elected at the first meeting of the year for Winnebago chapter, Order of DeMolay, Wednesday night at the Menasha Masonic lodge rooms. The directors are Charles Brein, Herb Hartung and Bob Mead. Brein was named efficiency director for the third successive year. Herb Hartung was reelected press agent and will head the publicity department. Mead was elected athletic director.

Plans for the year were discussed and investigations were started to secure a gymnasium in which to carry out the year's athletic program. Plans are being devised for an athletic program which will include all members of the chapter.

The first regular meeting of the year will be held at 7:30 next Wednesday night in the Menasha Masonic lodge rooms. New officers of the chapter will commence their duties at that time.

A membership drive is to be started with each present member being requested to bring in a new candidate.

CLUB SEES MOVIES
Neenah — Pictures taken on a recent trip to the East were shown on the screen by C. A. Loesch, a member of the Menasha Rotary club, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the club Wednesday noon at Hotel Menasha.

neous equipment for the swimming pool and recreation building were adopted.

Alderman Edward Schultz, chairman of the finance committee, reported that the city last month incurred 196 accounts amounting to $27,546.54. The larger accounts were $1,453.53, concrete $1,402.50, sand fill for E. Wisconsin avenue $1,250.15, sand for street filling $1,101.97, street lighting $1,209.04, steeple $1,104.86 and workmen's compensation insurance $1,209.10.

Accepting of bids for the sale of the men's and women's bathhouses at the municipal bathing beach was withheld until the next meeting. It was pointed out that the waterworks plant may be able to use the women's bathhouse for storage.

The matter of remedying the hazardous condition on the city property off N. Commercial street near the canal was referred to the public improvements committee. There is no barrier between the canal and the land and the property is being used as a street.

Objects to U-Turns
Alderman Heigl objected to motorists making U-turns within the block on E. and W. Wisconsin avenue, and the police department was instructed to prohibit the procedure.

City property off Fairview avenue near the quarry will be mapped out so that the council can determine whether to put it up for sale.

Reports from Justice of the Peace Gaylord C. Loehning showed fines and fees collected last month amounted to $78.93 and from Justice of the Peace Elmer H. Radtke $22.94.

School's Yearly Program Adopted

Board Votes to Observe
Thanksgiving on Early
Date, Nov. 23

Neenah — The program for the 1939-1940 school year was adopted by the board of education at its meeting Wednesday night at the board room in the school.

The Thanksgiving day decreed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt will be observed in the Menasha public schools, Thursday, Nov. 23. Other days to be observed during the school year are Columbus day on Oct. 12, Armistice day on Nov. 11, Lincoln's birthday on Feb. 22, and Memorial day on May 30.

The annual convention of the Wisconsin Education association will be held on Nov. 2 and 3. The annual Christmas and spring vacations were approved. Christmas vacation will begin at the close of school on Dec. 22 and school will begin again on Wednesday morning, Jan. 3. Spring vacation will start at the close of school on March 20 and classes will resume again on Tuesday morning, March 26.

The school year again has been divided into quarters. The first quarter will end Nov. 3 and the second quarter will start Nov. 6. The first semester will end Jan. 19 and the second semester will begin Jan. 22. The third quarter will end March 22 and the final quarter will start with the opening of school following spring vacation. School will close May 31.

Police Radio WAKE
Makes 1,339 Calls to 4 Counties in Month

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Be A Careful Driver
Risser, who has badgered Governor Heil for almost all of his appointments, then told the senate that "although there is some general criticism to be made of these regents," we have a better board "because of our fight."

Risser referred to the Progressive battle to prevent the Heil administration's bill to reorganize and recreate the university regents body.

During the delay caused by that fight, said the Dane county critic of Heil, "the chief executive of the state got a further appreciation of the part the university plays in the life of the state."

It has been reliably reported that when a place on the university governing board originally was tendered to Senns, he declined, and that only after persuasion from Governor Heil did he accept the appointment.

Senators Praise Sensenbrenner as Choice for Regent

Mack, Duell Laud Kim-berly - Clark Chief in Upper House

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — When Governor Heil chose F. J. Sensenbrenner of Neenah for the 9-year term on the University of Wisconsin board of regents, he chose a man of "unquestioned integrity and ability and high qualifications," two Republican senators said in the senate yesterday.

Senator Duell of Fond du Lac and Senator Mack of Shiocton praised Sensenbrenner's selection before the upper house of the legislature confirmed his nomination by a vote of 24 to 1. Only dissenter was Senator George Hampel of Milwaukee, former Socialist, now an FLFP senator.

"For many years he has been very active in the field of education," said Duell of Sensenbrenner. "His business ability and sure judgment will be of much value to the university." Mack observed that "the senate will make no mistake in forming a man of such high qualifications for this position."

When questioned by Senator Fred Risser of Madison, (P), Duell reported that the Neenah regent is 65 years of age.

Neenah—Plans for a bazaar Sept. 27 with Mrs. Ernest Huebner as chairman were discussed at the Ladies' society meeting in Immanuel Lutheran church social hall Wednesday afternoon. The Mother-Daughter banquet was postponed to a later date this fall. The meeting opened with a song, "The Work is Thine, O Christ the Lord," and prayer. Mrs. Walter Diecher read the "The Christian and the Cultured Life." Mrs. Mason read the scripture. Hostesses during the social hour were Mrs. Fred Kuehl, Mrs. Walter Hauke, Mrs. William Wisner, Mrs. William Luebke, Mrs. Otto Steffenhagen and Mrs. Henry Krause.

Mrs. Olaf Schubert will present a convention report at the 7:30 Friday evening meeting of the Danish Sisterhood in the Brotherhood hall.

Plans for an evening ride and social Thursday, Sept. 14, are being outlined by the program committee, Margaret Brown, chairman, of the Winnebago Bit and Spur club.

Mrs. Young Heads Women Golf Group Elected President of Ridgeway Club Division Wednesday

Neenah—Mrs. John Young, Jr., was elected president of the women's division of Ridgeway Golf club at the final Ladies' day program Wednesday.

Mrs. Einar Jorgenson was reelected vice president and Mrs. John Holzman was reelected secretary-treasurer.

The season cups were awarded as a feature of yesterday's program with Mrs. A. W. August winning the championship cup. Miss Eileen Remmel won the first flight cup and Mrs. John Holzman, second flight cup. The July handicaps tournament prize was awarded Mrs. W. H. Cartwright, Appleton.

Plans for a 2-ball foursome for members and their husbands and invited guests Sunday afternoon with a supper party following were outlined. Reservations are to be made by Friday night with either Mrs. Clark Wiese or Mrs. G. A. Loomis.

Golf activities Wednesday featured against par play with Mrs. John Young, Jr., and Mrs. John Holzman winning the honors. Mrs. A. W. August won the prize for low on three blind holes.

Bridge honors during the afternoon went to Mrs. Frank Thallie of Appleton and Mrs. Holzman. It was planned that the eight women who have been high in bridge during the season would hold a tournament next Wednesday afternoon at the clubhouse.

Annual Class Tennis Tourney to Open at High School Monday

Neenah—Ivan Williams, Neenah high school tennis coach, reported that the annual class tennis tournament will get underway Monday afternoon at the high school courts.

The captains for the four class teams are: Seniors, Donald Erdmann and Kenneth Ginnow; Juniors, William Hammett, Jack Dreheim and E. Arpin; Sophomores, R. Ginnow, R. Dine and C. Lemberg; and freshmen, B. Johnson, J. Hammett and C. Jersild.

Each class team will be composed of four singles players and a doubles team. The players will be selected by the captains.

The tournament schedule is as follows: Monday, seniors versus freshmen and juniors versus sophomores; Tuesday, seniors versus sophomores and juniors versus freshmen; and Wednesday, seniors versus juniors and sophomores versus freshmen.

Evangelical Church Committees Selected
Neenah—Two committees were appointed at a meeting of the official board of the First Evangelical church last night at the church. Walter Malchow was named chairman of the music committee which will work out the music program to coordinate with the church program. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Arthur Mielke, Mrs. Herbert Penner, Mrs. Lillian Mielke, Elmer Gollnow and the Rev. Roy W. Berg.

The other committee, of which Howard Whitpan is chairman, will investigate places in which church services may be held during the building operations should plans to build this fall get underway. Other members of that committee are Mrs. Louis Howman, Mrs. Mielke and the Rev. Mr. Berg.

Plans for a harvest supper the latter part of the month were discussed at the Women's Union meeting in Whiting Baptist church Wednesday. The social and work committee will be in charge of the supper. Hostesses during the social hour were Mrs. Peter Seitz, Mrs. O. Coy and Mrs. George Terrio.

Seven Neenah young women, alumni of the Neenah high school, entertained at a picnic and theater party in honor of Miss Grace Breitner, former Neenah high school instructor, who will be married Sept. 16. The picnic was held in Pierce park in Appleton. The alumni members included Betsy DeWitt, Doris Koenigsmeyer, Fran Webb, Margaret Webster, Florence Christensen, Marjorie Thompson and Dorothy Wiberg. Miss Gussie Harris, Ypsilanti, Mich., who is a guest of Miss Breitner and who will be her bridesmaid, also attended the party.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jenks Second street, and their granddaughter, Dorothy Dahl, returned Wednesday from a western trip that took them through the Bad Lands of the Dakotas, Montana, Idaho and Washington and Oregon. While in Washington, they visited Mr. Jenks' brother at Spokane and his sister at Vancouver.

Circle 1 of the Ladies' society of Immanuel Lutheran church will meet at 1:30 Friday afternoon with Mrs. Henry Blohm, 563 Chestnut street.

Pleads Innocent of Petty Larceny Charge

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau Oshkosh—Bert Hunsicker, 41, 203 Gruenwaldt avenue, town of Menasha, pleaded not guilty of petty larceny when he was arraigned before Judge S. J. Luchinsinger in municipal court this morning. The court ordered trial at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, Sept. 14.

Hunsicker was accused of stealing a bicycle owned by Archie Jones, route 1, Menasha, after the bicycle was found in his garage by county police this morning. Hunsicker, when he pleaded not guilty of the charge, told the court that a stranger asked to leave the bicycle in his garage because it had a flat tire.

Board Hears Report On Repairs to Schools

Menasha—Reports on summer repairs at the various schools of the Menasha public school system were heard at the meeting of the board of education Wednesday night, according to F. B. Younger, superintendent of schools. Members of the board presented the reports on the various schools while Mr. Younger gave a report on the faculty and enrollment.

Contracts for health supplies and magazines were let by the board. R. E. Fahrback and Claude G. Mayer of the local insurance board discussed insurance problems with the board of education.

Pulpit Committee Will Appoint New Pastor for Church

Congregational Parish Resumes Fall Activities Sunday

Menasha—The First Congregational church, following a summer recess of six weeks, will resume its fall and winter services at 10:45 Sunday morning with Dr. John Watson, pastor-at-large for the Congregational churches in Wisconsin, conducting the worship hour. Dr. Wilson will substitute during the interim period until a successor to the Rev. W. A. Jacobs is appointed. The Rev. Mr. Jacobs resigned in July to accept a position at the Cedar Rapids, Ia., Congregational church.

Oscar Peterson and John Kaufman selected the interim pastor. They were named for that committee by the board of deacons. Members of the pulpity committee who have selected several pastors as possible appointees include F. B. Younger, chairman of the board of trustees; J. F. Kaufman, chairman of the board of deacons; J. M. Holder, Jr., of the business committee; Carl Anderson, representing the Congregational society; Mrs. Irving Merrill, women's groups; Mrs. L. H. Terrio, Sunday school; and Emmett Below, young people's society.

To Visit Home Churches
The pulpity committee will visit home churches of the pastors selected to hear them conduct services before making a selection. Dr. Theodore F. Paville, Madison, general superintendent of Wisconsin Congregational churches, met with the pulpity committee to select possible candidates.

The choir of First Congregational church is being organized under the direction of Mrs. Franklin Le Fevre.

Sunday school will convene following the summer vacation at 9:30 Sunday morning also with Oscar Peterson, general superintendent in charge.

Boy Scout troops, Girl Scout troops, women's organizations, Wobelo Camp Fire Girls and other church sponsored organizations will begin activities on regular meeting days this month.

Mrs. Crockett Is Named to Office

Appointed Representative Of National Catholic Daughters

Menasha—Mrs. S. E. Crockett, former state regent of the Wisconsin Catholic Daughters of America, has been named national field representative for the National Catholic Daughters by its supreme regent, Miss Mary Duffy, according to information received from national headquarters.

Mrs. Crockett will receive assignments during the year from Miss Duffy to organize courts, speak at various court sessions and represent her and the national group at various conventions.

For 10 years, Mrs. Crockett held the office of regent in the state court, and in that office carried through important programs of the national organization. She has been regent of Court Alouez, Twin City Catholic Daughters of America, has headed its charity committee, worked as a member of the convent league committee which each year presents a series of three to four lectures by prominent speakers and was co-chairman with Miss Nell Webster of the study club committee.

Mrs. Crockett has been active also within the community as a speaker as well as a member of the Menasha Economics club. She worked with Mrs. F. J. Oberweiser in the first Mother and Daughter banquet ever sponsored at St. Patrick's Catholic church and which has been planned as an annual event in the parish.

Hollywood—I'm wondering how many Hollywoodites have considered one important result of the economy campaign which has been decided upon to offset the loss of Europe's markets.

By ruling against super-productions and resolving to stick to what seems to be a straight diet of Class "B" productions, the major studios are entering direct competition with Republic, Monogram and the other smaller independents. And despite the lofty scorn with which those quickie plants have been regarded by the purse-proud majors, their competition is something to reckon with Monogram and Republic have been rigorously trained in the practice of economy. They've spent years learning all the tricks ways needed for corner-cutting. And, on their reduced budgets, they have been turning out some mighty good entertainment—doing it at just about half the cost which would be charged up by the bigger studios.

The independents have no expensive star rosters. Neither do they own great theater chains, capable of dragging them down into financial quicksand when business falls off. Having never depended on foreign markets, they need make no readjustments because of European troubles.

It seems to me that the majors are in for a licking if they try to compete with the independents' own ground. The only out for Metro, Paramount and the others is to go the whole way—slash salaries relentlessly and make "A" pictures but do it for "B" production costs. It can be done.

PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS:

Spencer Tracy always tilts his head perceptibly when delivering an unusually dramatic line. Wonder why Charles Boyer bothers to have sleeves built into his overcoats—he never seems to use them. The Bette Davis smile is much more appealing when viewed via the left profile. Ever notice that Youngdoug Fairbanks is a southpaw at the dinner table? In some photographs, Nelson Eddy and his bride look like brother and sister. A carillon to Virginia Bruce—the one star in town who usually arrives at premieres on time.

The funniest story of the week concerns Leo Carrillo, who was betrayed by his yen to dramatize his actions. Seems he needed a huge pot in which to cook frijoles for his celebrated barbeques, and, very laudably, betook himself to the Assistance League shop, a charity enterprise operated by Southern California's bluest-blooded society dobs. "I want," announced Nelson Carrillo, with customary flourish, "a bean pot big enough that I could sit in it." The young ladies, after surveying his somewhat beamy frame appraisingly, produced an antique kettle. "Let's see," smiled the son of the Dons, and forthwith SAT in it. And continued sitting despite his struggles. The impasse was finally relieved when the dobs stopped laughing long enough to trim the back buttons off the Carrillo pants.

Meteors Travel With Us as We Go Sailing Around Sun

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Iowa City—(P)—“Is this the spot where you were standing when you saw the meteor?”

“Yes.”

“Point with your arm tracing the path you saw the meteor take.”

“O. K.—but slower, please, so that I can measure the angles.”

This cross-examination is a sample from work of University of Iowa astronomers, which has just led to some interesting evidence on the origins of meteors.

Formerly, Dr. C. C. Wylie, Iowa astronomer, reports to the American Astronomical society, it was thought that meteors must have come from the distances of the stars.

If that is true, then meteors would come into the earth's atmosphere from all angles, like bullets shot by snipers on all sides. But, by getting the angles firsthand, from personal observers, Dr. Wylie finds this is not true.

The meteors all come from about the same angle; showing they are all traveling around the sun like the earth, the other planets and the comets.

The cross-examination brings out a new point. The meteors never were very far from the sun, not as far as the average comet gets in its circuit. The average distances traveled by meteors—checked by the Iowa method—have not been much above 200,000,000 miles.

OWL'S KILLINGS ENDED

Richmond, Va.—(P)—Officer Pinky Truslow of Capitol Square police found out who killed Cock Robin. One shot from the officer's rifle was enough for the murderer—an owl with a 46-inch wingspread, which has been preying on birds in the famous square.

Ladies Aid Society Meets at Maple Creek

Deer Creek—Mrs. Avery Henchel of Maple Creek was hostess to the Ladies Aid society of St. John's Lutheran church at her home Thursday afternoon. After the meeting a luncheon was served to the following guests: Mrs. William Koehler, Mrs. Gust Ponzer, Mrs. August Koehler, Mrs. Henry Koehler, Mrs. Ernst Luebke, Mrs. Richard Sengstock, Mrs. Otto Ponzer and Mrs. R. W. Ponzer. Mrs. R. W. Ponzer will entertain the society next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Luebke and family were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Mortimer at Chilton. Raymond and Dickie Mortimer returned to Chilton with them after spending the last two months at the home of their grandparents. Dorothy Luebke remained there to attend high school.

Mrs. John Luebke returned home Sunday after spending the last two weeks at the William Utz home at Chilton.

A large crowd attended the wedding dance and shower at Hazen's pavilion Saturday evening in honor of Florence Dingleline and Alvin Schinke, who were married at Appleton that day.

Mr. and Mrs. William Knehl have recently purchased a parcel of land on County Trunk D and are erecting a house there.

NEW WHAT HE WANTED

Spartanburg, S. C.—(P)—Police are seeking a very considerate thief. He removed a large plate-glass window from a store without breaking it and took only $2 from a well-stocked cash register. Nothing else was missing.

Skyline Caverns Have Blind Snails Species

Front Royal, Va.—(P)—Dr. Leslie Hubright of the Missouri Botanical Garden, St. Louis, reported he had discovered a species of blind snail in Skyline Caverns, near here. It has been found in only seven places in the United States. Dr. Hubright is engaged in collecting rare insects from an underground stream which flows through the cavern.

PANDER TO PANDAS

Chungking, China.—(P)—Probably the last panda to leave China for some time has been shipped from here to the zoo at St. Louis, Mo. Export of the rare animal has been barred by decree. The panda is cousin to the raccoon.

Mothers ask: "What between-meal food for children answers these requirements?"

1. It must be appealing. You'll never have to coax youngsters to eat NBC Graham Crackers. They love the tempting flavor.
2. It must not spoil appetites for regular meals. No fear of NBC Grams doing that! They are completely wholesome—easily digested.
3. It must be good for them. NBC Grams are an energy-helping food needed by growing children.
4. It must be of high quality. NBC Grams are made of fine ingredients... baked under sanitary conditions... carefully packaged and sealed.
5. It must be easy to get and serve. Your grocer carries NBC Grams. Order a package for the week-end. Keep it handy and tell the youngsters to help themselves. You'll like NBC Grams, too.

SUGGESTION OF THE WEEK
It's a happy girl or boy who finds tasty NBC Grams in the school lunch box. Make nourishing sandwiches by spreading cream cheese or peanut butter between two crackers.

Pastor and Wife Married 25 Years

Rev. and Mrs. E. C. F. Stuebenvoll Honored At Church Parlor

Clintonville — The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of the Rev. and Mrs. E. C. F. Stuebenvoll was celebrated Wednesday afternoon by the Christ Lutheran Aid society and invited guests at the church parlor. About sixty persons were in attendance. The program included a vocal solo by Miss Mildred Brackeborn with accompaniment by Mrs. William Nath; an original poem written for the occasion by the Rev. Emil Stuebenvoll, father of the pastor; and remarks of appreciation by the honored couple. The Rev. and Mrs. Stuebenvoll were presented with an electric percolator and an automatic electric toaster.

The Stuebenvolls have resided in Clintonville for nearly twenty years, having come to the local congregation from Tilleda. They have four daughters and one son, Mrs. Myron Marshak of Munising, Mich.; Mrs. Eugene Dexter, Elizabeth, Del.; Mrs. Emil Stuebenvoll, Jr., of this city.

This being the regular September meeting of the Ladies Aid society, the annual election of officers was held. All former officers were re-elected and include: Mrs. Henry Knitt, president; Mrs. William C. Schulz, vice president; Mrs. Arthur Schoenick, secretary; Mrs. Edmund Rosenow, treasurer; and Mrs. E. Larson, financial secretary.

The afternoon closed with the serving of a luncheon by a committee composed of Mrs. Louis Pasch, Mrs. Anton Muthig, Mrs. Hans Nath and Mrs. Martha Postel.

Melvin Bartz, history instructor at Clintonville High school, was a guest at the Lions club dinner Tuesday evening at the clubhouse on Long lake. Mr. Bartz gave a talk on the present European situation, tracing the history of the war from its beginning through the last several centuries.

Mr. and Mrs. John Winkler recently returned from a two weeks motor trip through the east. They toured the New England states and attended the New York World's fair. They were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Violet Winkler of Chicago, and Miss Marie Schneider of Merton. The latter is a sister of Mrs. Winkler.

Waupaca Youth Back From Indian School

Waupaca — Willis Holmes, Jr., returned Tuesday afternoon from Waupaca, S. D., where he has spent the last five weeks in an Indian school supervised by Mrs. Mae Long McKibbin, former resident of Waupaca. The school, under direction of the Episcopal church, has an enrollment of 95 pupils. Willis, only white boy in the school, was called "white boy" by his classmates.

Side trips into Nebraska, Iowa and the Bad Lands of the Dakotas were part of the vacation enjoyed by Willis before entering his senior year when he returned home.

Carroll, H. O. of Jackson, Wis., spent a few hours in Waupaca Wednesday enroute to his home after a vacation spent at Minnoka.

Peterson Family Has Its Annual Reunion At Chain o' Lakes

Waupaca — Following a custom of several years, the Peterson family held its annual reunion at the Chain o' Lakes. Headquarters this year were at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Peterson on Columbian lake. Nearly sixty were in attendance. Those from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peterson and children, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterson, Menasha; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hannan, Menasha; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Peterson and family, Neenah; Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Peterson and daughter Miss Marjorie, Port Edwards; John and Don Clayton, Milwaukee.

Colonel L. W. Johnson spent Labor day in Suring where he was listed as one of the attractions of the air celebration. Contrary to their custom, Mrs. Johnson did not accompany her husband and participated in the exhibition shooting. A guest at the home, Frank Mazenet of Madison, accompanied Colonel Johnson while Mrs. Mazenet remained at the Johnson home over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dance and family returned to Milwaukee Tuesday after a summer spent at their cottage on Miner lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bostwick and children Jean and Frank, left Tuesday for Chicago after a summer on Gilbert lake, south of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Woody and sons Dean and Keith of Madison spent several days with the former's brother A. E. Woody and family. They returned Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hanson, daughter Joan and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nelson and son Sherman of Madison, spent the weekend in the northern part of the state fishing. The Nelsons returned home Tuesday.

A new store is to be opened in Waupaca Oct. 1 in the building vacated a week ago by John Brauer, Wisconsin Rapids. The store is to be operated by Carol Sanger, Chicago, and will include men's and women's furnishings.

hospital near Tacoma, Wash., was in the city over the weekend visiting her mother. Miss Peterson had been in Boston, Washington, D. C., and Chicago before coming to Waupaca making most of her journey by airplane. Enroute to Tacoma she planned to spend a few days at Salt Lake City. The return trip was also by plane. A sister, Miss Olivia Peterson of Milwaukee, is also at the Peterson home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Connor of Minnoka are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Holmes.

Senator F. R. Fisher returned to Madison Thursday morning after attending to his business interests in the city.

Sentenced to Waupun For Theft at Beach

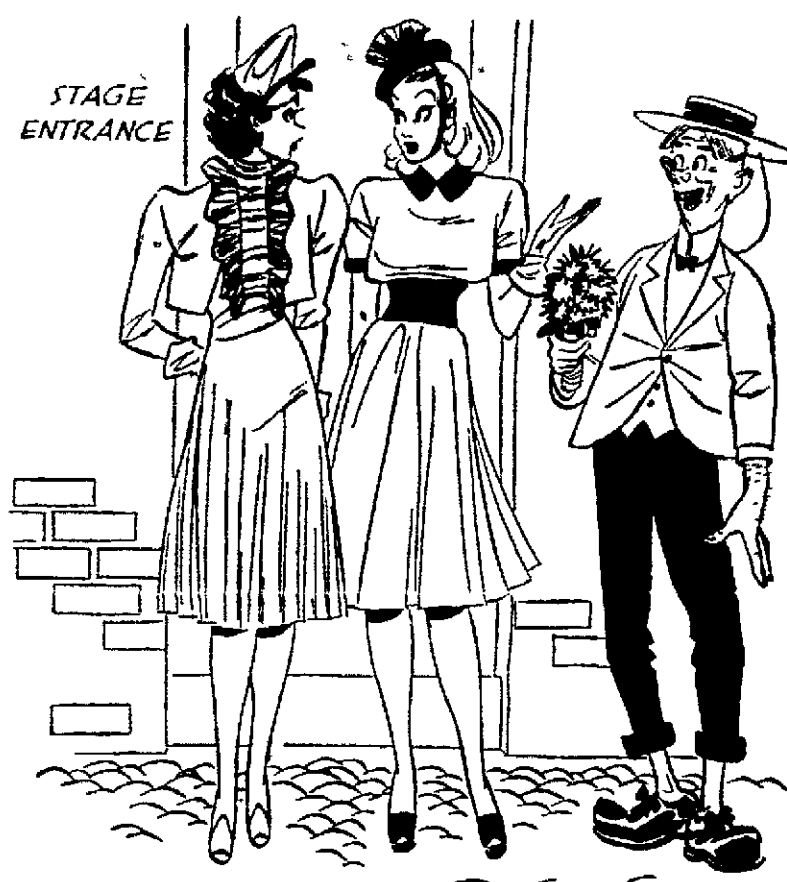

Waupaca — Claude Buchanan, 28, Fond du Lac laborer, pleaded guilty Tuesday in circuit court to larceny under the repeaters statute and sentenced to from one to two years at Waupun. He was committed at once.

Buchanan was found guilty of stealing clothing from bathers at the city bathing beach while owners were in the water.

Martin Luther, 35, pleaded guilty to stealing chickens in the town of Dupont. His sentence was deferred and he is still in the county jail.

Misleading Rumors Rise From Government Emergency Plans

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Washington—The tendency of rumor to leap ahead of the news and to stir up unnecessary alarms and anxieties is going to manifest itself more and more now through the period of tension.

One particular source of these misleading anticipatory rumors is bound to be the emergency plans of numerous kinds which have been drawn up by a number of government departments. They cover conceivable situations that might arise either under neutrality or war. Desks of many executives are filled with such advance blueprints. That is the part of intelligent preparedness and the government would be subject to just criticism if it were not looking ahead and making plans for all foreseeable situations, probable and improbable. We have war plans, I suppose, against almost every major power, and have had for years, as other powers have them against us.

Sometimes discussion concerning the nature of some of these advance blueprints becomes current and leads to unjustified alarms. That apparently is the origin of the rumor of impending radio censorship which has rattled around Washington of late and spread over the country. Somebody has been talking about what might have to be done if we got into a war, or came into a situation close to it.

So far as can be ascertained from persons who ought to know, there is no thought of censorship either for radio or the press under present conditions. It certainly could not be attempted so far as the press is concerned without legislation and considerable stretching of the constitution for emergency purposes.

Authorities Doubt They Can Apply Censor

For radio, authorities are exceedingly doubtful if they have the authority, even indirectly, to apply any censorship, except through the one method of broadening the conception of "public interest" under which the periodic station licenses have been refused license renewal because they were deemed to be operating contrary to the public interest. Present world conditions may lead naturally to some alteration in the attitude which the federal communications commission might take toward the question of public interest.

Officials of the Federal Communications commission are giving much thought to the problem but not any more than radio broadcasting companies are themselves. The broadcasters are attempting to conduct themselves with caution and restraint and have satisfied officials of the commission of their interest in not complicating the operation of neutrality. They will discuss these matters fully in conference with the commission within a few days, it is understood. May be Necessary to Police Amateur Stations

There are other problems connected with radio that may require governmental action. For instance, it may be necessary to police amateur stations more closely to prevent their use as sources of information for belligerents. There may be a further presidential proclamation covering the subject of communications as it relates to the state of neutrality now in effect. Mr. Roosevelt said at his press conference Tuesday that it was important to take precautions against the dissemination of propaganda in this country opposing our system of government and for communism or dictatorship. He said also precautions must be taken against use of this country as a center of information that might help a belligerent.

Such measures however are to be extremely limited in scope. For the present, communications officials feel that the situation in general is being taken care of satisfactorily. What might become necessary if we came into a state of extreme tension, or close to war, or if the broadcasting companies failed to show a sense of responsibility, is something else, just as it would be entirely different if we were actually at war.

While conditions remain as they are now, there is no reason to expect any attempt to impose governmental control upon free discussion. Blueprints anticipating what might some day be deemed desirable should not be confused with the policies which are preferred and which will be followed while conditions remain as now.

Circuit Court Grants Divorces to 3 Women

Waupaca—Judge Herman J. Severson was in Waupaca Tuesday. Three divorces were granted: Martha Wiora from Frank Wiora, of Portage county; Loretta Putnam from Robert Putnam, New London; and Elizabeth Klappa from Benedict Klappa, Wood county.

Charles Miller was cited in court by the divorce counsel of Portage county for non-payment of support to Lillian Miller. He was adjudged in contempt and ordered to pay a substantial part of arrearages at once. His case was continued to Sept. 18 at Wautoma.

John Worzella, Portage county, also was ordered to pay immediately towards the support of Regina Worzella.

Circuit court for the Seventh Judicial district will convene in Wautoma, Waushara county, Sept. 18; Sept. 19, in Wisconsin Rapids, Wood county, Oct. 2; in Waupaca, Waupaca county, Nov. 6; and Stevens Point, Portage county, Dec. 4.

Among the cases to be heard in Waupaca's circuit court is that of Arthur Emmott and his wife Beulah who are suing the Kreunen Implement company, Waupaca, and the Hardware Mutual Insurance company of Stevens Point.

Mrs. Emmott is suing for $25,000 damages and Mr. Emmott for $3,300 for damages and deprivation of his wife's services. Mrs. Emmott was

Cubs Defeat Giants in Safety Contest at Kimberly-Clark Mill

Kimberly — The Cubs won over the Giants by a score of 985 points to 925 points in a safety program at the clubhouse Wednesday noon in connection with a safety contest at the Kimberly mill. Each group had four employees participating in a question bee. One more program will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 27, when Wednesday's winners will meet the Red Sox, last month's winners, in the final contest to determine the mill safety champions.

H. Forster of the winners had 350 points; C. Monyette, 335 points; G. Peterson, 150, and Ed Dericks, 150. For the Giants, Art Jansen scored 350 points; E. Melcher, 200; R. Coonen, 125, and A. Schiltz, 250. J. T. Doerfler, mill manager, congratulated woodroom department employees, who recently completed two years without a lost-time accident.

The Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. Henry Patch at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The choir of the First Presbyterian church will give a program at the Riverview Sanatorium next Monday.

Charles Kilpatrick, I. C. Clark and the Rev. L. C. Smith will attend the district presidency at Gresham, Tuesday.

Mrs. Fred Kroenke, John street, is seriously ill at her home.

Miss Marjorie Anderson, who was employed at Madison during the summer, is spending a vacation with her parents here before returning to the university there.

Flying Deaf Mute Visits City In Quest of Material for Book

One of seven deaf mutes to hold a flying pilot's license in the United States, Ralph K. Bradford, 38, who is flying around the world gathering material for a book, arrived in Appleton yesterday for a 3-week stay to gather material. He has traveled half of his goal or 150,000 miles in quest of material for the book he will write on "Traveled Travels for an Education."

Bradford's journey is unique in that he must use a pencil and paper for all his "conversations." He expects to travel far enough by 1945 to write his book.

The flying deaf mute claims Appleton is No. 4,985 on his list of cities visited. While traveling to foreign countries or possessions of the United States, Bradford works as a deckhand on boats.

He landed in Green Bay Aug. 20 and is making a tour of Fox river valley cities. He has his plane stationed at Green Bay. Bradford owns half interest in the plane and his mechanic, who owns the other half, remains with the plane while Bradford searches for his book material.

While in Appleton, he will interview city and Outagamie county officials.

BARROWS AT MEETING
President Thomas N. Barrows of Lawrence college is at Green Bay today attending a meeting of the Wisconsin Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

1c SALE NEW 1940 RINSO

BUY THIS BIG BOX AT THE USUAL PRICE!

GET THIS REGULAR-SIZE PACKAGE FOR 1c

WHAT A BARGAIN! AND BY ACTUAL TEST THE NEW 1940 RINSO GIVES UP TO 6 TIMES AS MUCH SUDS AS MANY BAR AND PACKAGE SOAPS

NO THRIFTY housewife can afford to miss this great one cent sale on the New 1940 Rinso. Go to your grocer's today and buy a large package of the New 1940 Rinso at the usual price. He will give you a regular-size package of the New Rinso FOR ONLY 1c.

The New 1940 Rinso is here a year ahead of time with a marvelous new "suds-booster" that has been added at no extra cost to you. By actual test the New 1940 Rinso gives up to 6 times as much suds as many bar and package soaps—even in hardest water. Soapy, long-lasting suds that prevent hard-water scum from forming on the wash water. No wonder the New Rinso gets clothes dazzling white—a brilliant bright—in tub or washer. The handy regular-size package of Rinso is just the thing for kitchen use. Keep it on hand for quick easy dishwashing—and all cleaning. Rinso is the only soap recommended by the makers of 33 leading washers.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

SEA LION WEIGHS OVER HALF TON

Most of the seals which are kept in zoos and which perform at the circus are sea lions. They are quick-witted animals, and learn their lessons well. Millions of persons have watched them climb ladders, and perform balancing tricks. They catch balls on their noses, and throw them back with a push of the nose.

A California Sea Lion

Like the fur seal, the sea lion has outside ears. Other kinds of seals have no outside ears, but can hear with ears which are covered. The flippers of sea lions and other seals are extremely interesting. They are legs of a sort, but are far better fitted for motion in water than on land.

If we look at the skeleton of a sea lion, we find the bones of short legs and long "feet." At the end of each flipper are the bones of five "toes."

Some kinds of seals have the rear flippers close to the tail. At first glimpse, indeed, we might suppose such a seal had no hind flippers but only a three-part tail!

This is true of the common seal, but the hind flippers of the sea lion are very plainly to be seen. The common seal is only about five feet long. It is covered with hair, but not close fur. People hunt it to obtain oil from its blubber, also to obtain its flesh and hide.

The common seal has proved a rival to the sea lion in power of performing tricks. The hind flippers do not help it to move on land, but it manages to get around with the help of the front flippers. It learns to answer to its own name.

The California sea lions have dark, nearly black, coats. They do a great deal of barking. They are larger than the common seals, sometimes reaching a length of from seven to nine feet.

Other sea lions are far larger than those which visit parts of the California coast. I am thinking of the huge Steller sea lions of the North Pacific. The males of this group grow to be from 12 to 15 feet long, and weigh from 1,000 to 1,300 pounds.

Around the southern shores of South America, Patagonian sea lions spend most of their time. They are the animals which gave the name to the sea lion group. Long hair grows on their necks, and their hair made people who saw them in early days think of the manes of lions.

SCHOOLS
OPEN

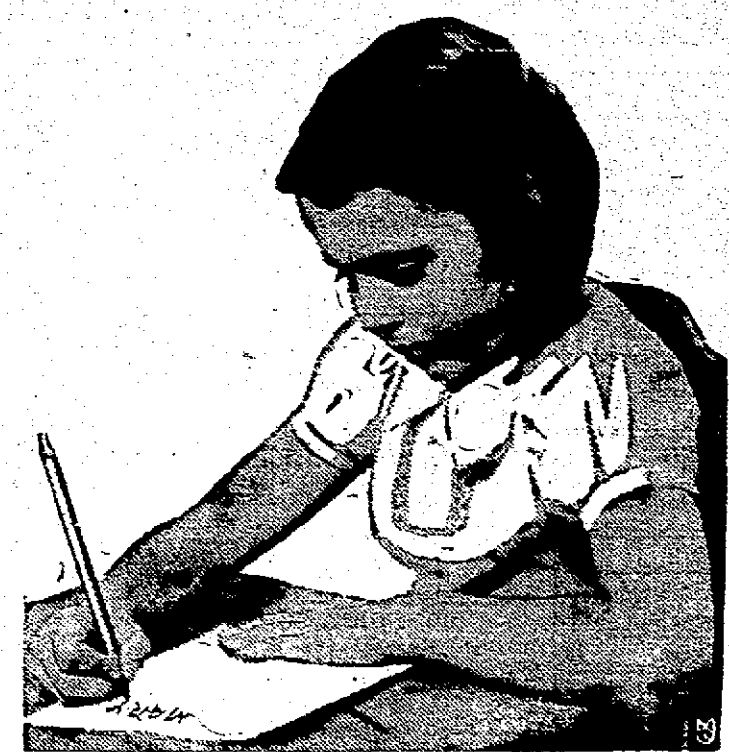

TIME was when going back to school wasn't much fun for anyone — children and parents alike. Things are different now, however, and you can thank modern teaching methods and modern merchandising progress for the improvement!

School isn't just a matter of the basic "three 'R's" — although modern education neglects none of the essentials and it certainly keeps young minds and hands busy. Actually, school today makes learning a pleasure . . . an adventure. Young people look forward with anticipation to the opening of classes next week, and well they might!

Getting children ready for school isn't nearly the bothersome and expensive problem it used to be, either! Give your merchants credit for that. Children's clothes are sturdier, easier to put on and wear, and free from the old-time "fussiness." What's more — they're better, yet they cost less. The same goes for every other item that is needed for this back-to-school season.

Radio Censorship Unlikely in U. S., Lawrence States

Disposition Is to Let Com- panies Use Their Own Judgment

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington.—In the inevitable hysteria which follows in the wake of a big war, there is much loose talk here about censorship. The Roosevelt administration is in no way encouraging it, but is in reality making it clear that no censorship is planned for radio.

The question arose out of the fears of various persons that the American people might have their minds poisoned by propaganda sent out over the air direct by foreign governments. Likewise, it has been argued that American radio broadcasters must not venture to express too strong an opinion one way or the other lest this in some way compromise our neutrality.

Actually, there have always been folks who believed it was dangerous to trust the American people to sift the truth from spurious propaganda. This has led to a belief that it was desirable to ask American broadcasting companies not to relay foreign propaganda broadcasts. But this would only lead to a stimulus for the sale of short wave sets which can pick up such broadcasts direct and it would not prevent the American newspapers from reprinting all or parts of such broadcasts.

Radio is a new instrumentality of expression, but the rules which govern the press apply equally to any form of public pronouncement. If the American people cannot be trusted to distinguish phony ideas handed to them by speakers over the air, they will be equally powerless to tell the crackpot from the sensible orator who stands on the street-corner soap-box.

Too Much News
It has also been suggested that perhaps the broadcasting companies are bringing too much European news to their listeners, and that a periodic analysis would be better than so many interruptions for what will soon become relatively inconsequential war bulletins. The answer is that radio broadcasting was not established during the World war and hence has no precedents of experience. But within a little while, radio will adjust itself to the new developments just as will the press, so that the war will be viewed in proper perspective in relation to domestic events and preoccupations.

This war is to be a contest of propaganda strategy. Yet a belligerent government which tells too many lies is apt to forfeit the respect of listeners everywhere. It will be interesting to note how quickly the foreign governments will begin to seek to build up confidence in the veracity of their reports. They must do so to retain a listening audience with regularity.

The same principle applies to the "official communique," which, while not telling all that happens usually with respect to major operations, does cover what has happened. The propaganda broadcast will in due time take on the aspect of the communique, but with an argument, of course, for foreign support to the cause involved.

American broadcasting stations will be on their guard not to be imposed upon by foreign propaganda strategy, lending their facilities at important moments for various kinds of newsless talks. Newspapers have long ago found how to print, but to relegate to its proper place, the contentions or argumentative statements of those with an axe to grind and with no real news interest behind their comments. Radio stations, being privately owned, can eliminate or abbreviate what they please. Any rule forced upon them by the government here on the ground of "public interest" only means substituting the arbitrary point of view of a bureaucrat for what the station managers would discover by experience to be the right way to handle controversial broadcasts.

Voluntary Censorship
During the World war, it was the proud boast of the American press that, although a censorship law was drawn up by the war department in the event that the United States entered the war, it was never applied when April, 1917, did draw us into the conflict overseas. Instead, a "voluntary censorship" was applied. It was a plan whereby the American newspapers on their own initiative agreed to refrain from printing certain military and naval information when requested by the government in Washington. The whole thing worked well from beginning to end, and if emergencies likely to become so serious as to involve the national defense of the United States should arise, radio stations and newspapers can doubtless find a basis for voluntary cooperation with the government without being subjected to a prohibition by regulation or statute.

The difference between the two plans is just this: In the matter of a statute, the censor's word is final, whereas, under voluntary cooperation, if an unreasonable rule is sought to be applied, there can be discussion and perhaps the matter, if it be sufficiently important, can be carried to the president of the United States, or even, in an extreme case, to the people themselves for decision.

The disposition here is to let private communication companies and the press use their own judgment and good taste in handling war news and not be stampeded into silence by the partisans of one side or the other, whose real objection to some of the broadcasts may well be that they dislike to hear the truth or comment on the truth.

Police Make 90 Arrests in Month

Parking Law Violation Charges Head List Of Causes

City police made 90 arrests during August, according to a report of Police Chief George T. Prim.

Parking law charges led the causes for the arrest, 30 being made under the 60-minute restriction, 18 under the 2-hour restriction, 10 under the 80-minute restriction, 1 for parking more than six inches from the curb and 1 for parking in a driveway.

Others were assault with intent to rob 1, assault with intent to commit rape 1, breaking and entering 2, drunkenness 7, drunken driving 2, larceny 3, operating auto without license 1, obtaining money under false pretense 1, failing to stop for arterial 3, passing traffic light 1, speeding 4, vagrancy 3 and violation of parole 1.

The armored car was used in making 224 calls and traveled 875 miles. Squad car No. 1 traveled 2,480 miles and squad car No. 2, 2,410.

Announces Campaign to Check Noxious Weeds

Madison — James A. Corcoran, Webster, chairman of the state conservation commission, announced Wednesday a campaign for eradication of noxious weeds to make Wisconsin a haven for hay fever sufferers. Corcoran notified Conservation Director H. W. MacKenzie the campaign would be carried out with cooperation of the department's forestry board and the civilian conservation corps.

"I believe that the department will have the full cooperation of every citizen in the state in giving relief to those affected with hay fever and in the time will bring many citizens from other states who are seeking relief from hay fever disease to spend the months of August and September in Wisconsin," Corcoran said.

Wins Probation in Manslaughter Case

Fond du Lac — Judge George Leicht of Wausau, sitting in circuit court here, Wednesday placed Herbert Hammann, Oshkosh, under probation to the state board of control for two years after the defendant entered a plea of guilty to fourth degree manslaughter. Hammann was charged in connection with the death last Dec. 16 of James Gebhardt, 8, who was struck and killed by an automobile.

Judge Leicht first sentenced

Hammann to one to two years in state prison at Waupun, but then suspended sentence and placed the defendant on probation. The court was told that a $4,000 damage settlement had been made.
